Coyote Capers

Foreword . . .

THE STAFF scratched their heads . . . and thought. What should be the Annual Theme? Progress? Marching Along? Guys 'N Gals? How should we typify average students at work and play, in and out of school? Kids who are always active . . . often cutting up . . . How about COYOTE CAPERS? It seems to fit!

TO CAPER means to frisk, romp, frolic. And that we did! We gamboled with abandon in the Follies, the plays, at assemblies. We romped at games; and we had fun, no foolin', in classes . . .

YES, WE'VE enjoyed our 1952-53 in every way. and to everyone at Phoenix Union, students, faculty, everybody . . . we dedicate this book. It is a symbol of friendship; it is a book of memories.

STUDENT BODY President Jess Celaya opens the first pep rally of the school year.

Coyotes Like To Gather And Howl!

Our Pep . . . We've Got It . . . Won't Lose It!

WAS IT REFLECTION OF the sun or just the Coyotes' naturally bright faces? Effervescence marked Phoenix Union students . . . and it bubbled over into all kinds of Coyote Capers. September's heat didn't dim our pep at football games. With cool November came the Turkey Game where we dulled our teeth on tough Hoss meat but nothing dampened our spirits!

ALL YEAR LONG we lined up dates, tried to choose between this dance and that game coming the same night. We had variety, too: follies, tournaments, concerts, house parties, desert picnics, stag or drag events. . . .

WE DRESSED up for Midnight and Roses, donned Western duds for Rodeo Week, kicked off our shoes for Ditch Day. We sang quietly at Yuletide, whooped at basketball games, orated eloquently for speech contests. We worked on publications, wrote and painted for Scholastic awards, battled for athletic trophies . . .

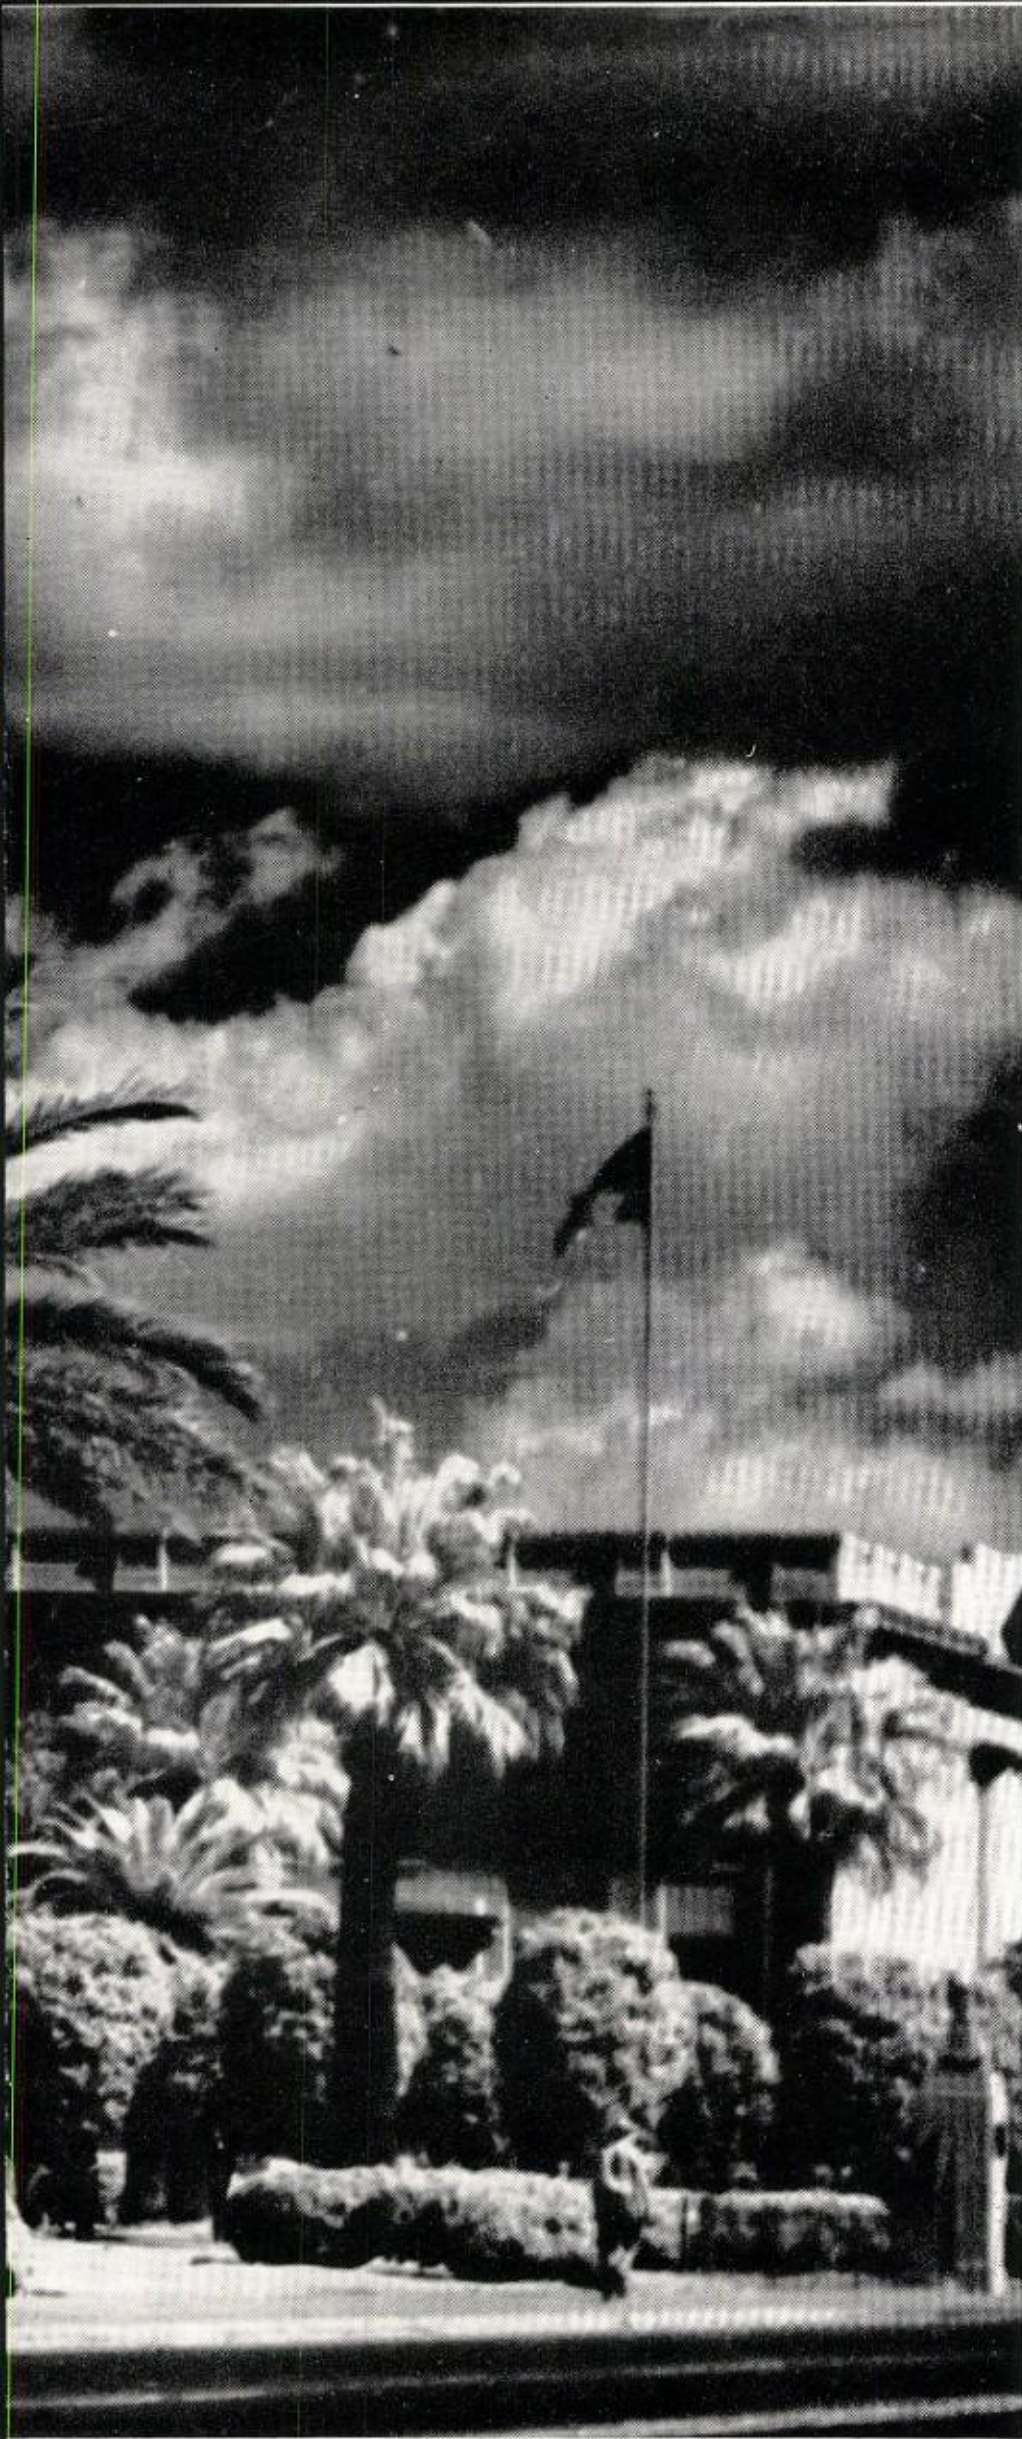

WHOOPIING it up for Color Day are these prize winners for the best costumes, Junior Jones and Betty Hoover.

HERE THEY COME! Over 3300 Coyotes head for the bleachers and the year's first pep rally. When our howling Coyotes get back of a team, spirit stays high, win or lose.

In a sweet
new sweet circle that has in Christ
this year and I have hope I have seen some of many things in the future in the future of the "55"

Hail Phoenix High!
Of thy glories we sing. . .
Far over the Western skies
Our voices now ring.
Our colors sail. . .
They will never fail. . .
Our sons will for'er be loyal Hail, Phoenix, Hail!

of the past
I hope today you will be out in the world

Administrators . . .

Superintendent E. W. Montgomery

TWENTY-EIGHT years of progressive service as superintendent of Phoenix Union High Schools have distinguished Dr. E. W. Montgomery as a foremost educator. He and the Board of Education have skillfully handled the double problem of administering an expanding educational system and justifying the expenditure to meet the schools' needs.

Service With Distinction . . .

MEMBERS OF THE school board devote much of their valuable time toward meeting the problems of Phoenix High Schools ably and wisely. This year the Board not only has dealt with the existing schools, but also has planned for two new schools soon to be established. Their interest is keynoted by the best interests of the community. Members (from left) are Dr. Norman A. Ross, Mrs. F. A. Bons, Frank Haze Burch, Jay Hyde, and Dr. Trevor G. Browne, president.

A Ready Smile Awaits You . . .

A FRIENDLY smile is sure to greet each student who enters the Principal's Office. Mr. Carter is glad to take time out from his many administrative duties to talk with Phoenix Union's students and teachers. His fine record as principal of Arizona's largest high school has distinguished him as one of the state's outstanding educators.

NEW COURSES and teaching methods are a constant source of industry and interest to our principal. He has headed an extensive modernization and remodeling program culminating in a completely new interior for the First Building.

Principal James S. Carter

and Janet Jefferson look up student schedules in the file cabinet. Lower right: Marcella Staken, Mildred Overton, and Edna Collins start the moving process to the newly-remodeled Administration Building, after "camping" for many months.

Bookstore

SELLING tickets to Stewart, Merrill, Jones, and McCullam is School Accountant Carl Allen.

Alert Accountants

YEARS OF PATIENT practice have made the Bookstore staff expert in managing Phoenix Union's money problems. Headed by Carl Allen, school accountant, the workers keep accurate accounts of all our assets and liabilities. They know just when we should cut down on our expenditures or when we have enough money to give another party or picnic.

ALL SCHOOL organizations—clubs, publications, athletics and the rest—have their funds handled at the Business Office. Also, students get bargains on everything from erasers and second hand books to graduation announcements at the Bookstore.

and Phyllis Vogeli start moving books to the newly-remodeled Bookstore in the Administration Building.

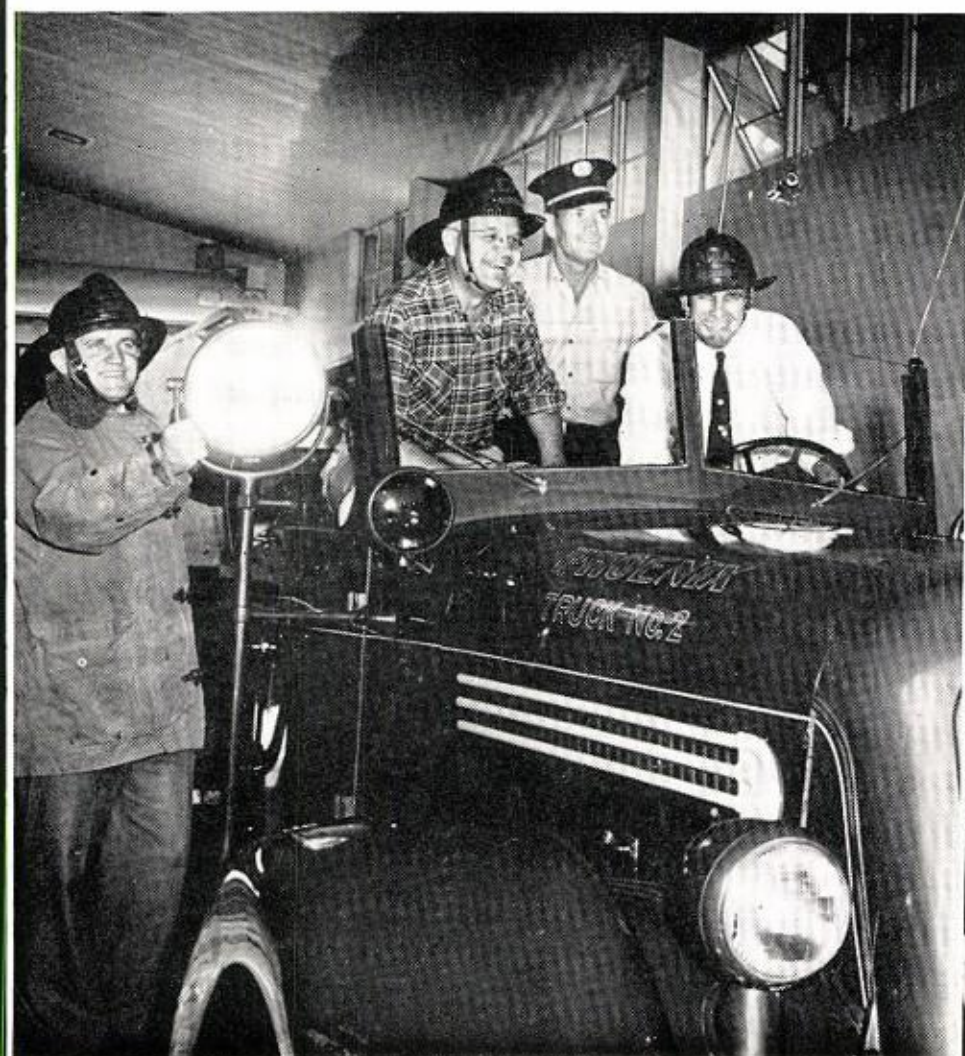

IF YOU'LL look closely you'll find Margaret Gonzales and Marlene Bellinger at this meeting of the Salt River Valley Student Body Presidents and Vice-Presidents Association which meets to consider mutual problems. Our Jess Celaya served as vice-president of the group.

Fire Or Not, Here We Come!

FALSE ALARM! School fire chiefs Thomas McCarty, Scott Nelson, and R. E. McCullar (left) get first hand information

Leadership . . .

We Govern Co-Operatively . . .

STUDENTS TODAY, citizens tomorrow. A difficult transition, perhaps, if it were done without the help of Student Government. A name and a few officers? Not at Phoenix Union. Everyone gets a chance to be a part of Student Government through Student Council and all kinds of elections—student body, League and Federation, class, and council.

EVERY STUDENT felt the responsibility of an adult citizen when ballots came his way. Each could voice his opinion through a representative in Student Council, or protest legislation through the same source.

THERE WAS THE Board of Control, which gave the officers an opportunity to get at the administrative end of government. It was a sounding-off board for students who wished to protest demerits. It was the executive body of Student Council.

BUT STUDENT GOVERNMENT wouldn't have succeeded if the student body hadn't co-operated. It was through your interest that the leaders knew what was needed and wanted. It was through you, the loyal Coyote, the Student Government became a working reality instead of an ideal.

ALL THESE amalgamated things make the Student Government what it is—a help and an honor to the school. We'll keep it that way by showing interest, taking part, being real Coyotes!

Co-Operation

OUR STUDENT BODY officers went Western for Rodeo Day. They're Margaret Gonzales, secretary; George Sorenson, vice-president; Jess Celaya, (at piano), president; and Marlene Bellinger, representative-at-large.

... To Promote Democratic Action

STUDENT COUNCIL meets in a nominating convention to choose candidates for student body officers to serve in 1953-1954.

Sweet Charity? We're For It!

PACKING the clothing for the Save The Children Drive are Dong, Walker, and Martino. In background are Marshall and Robins.

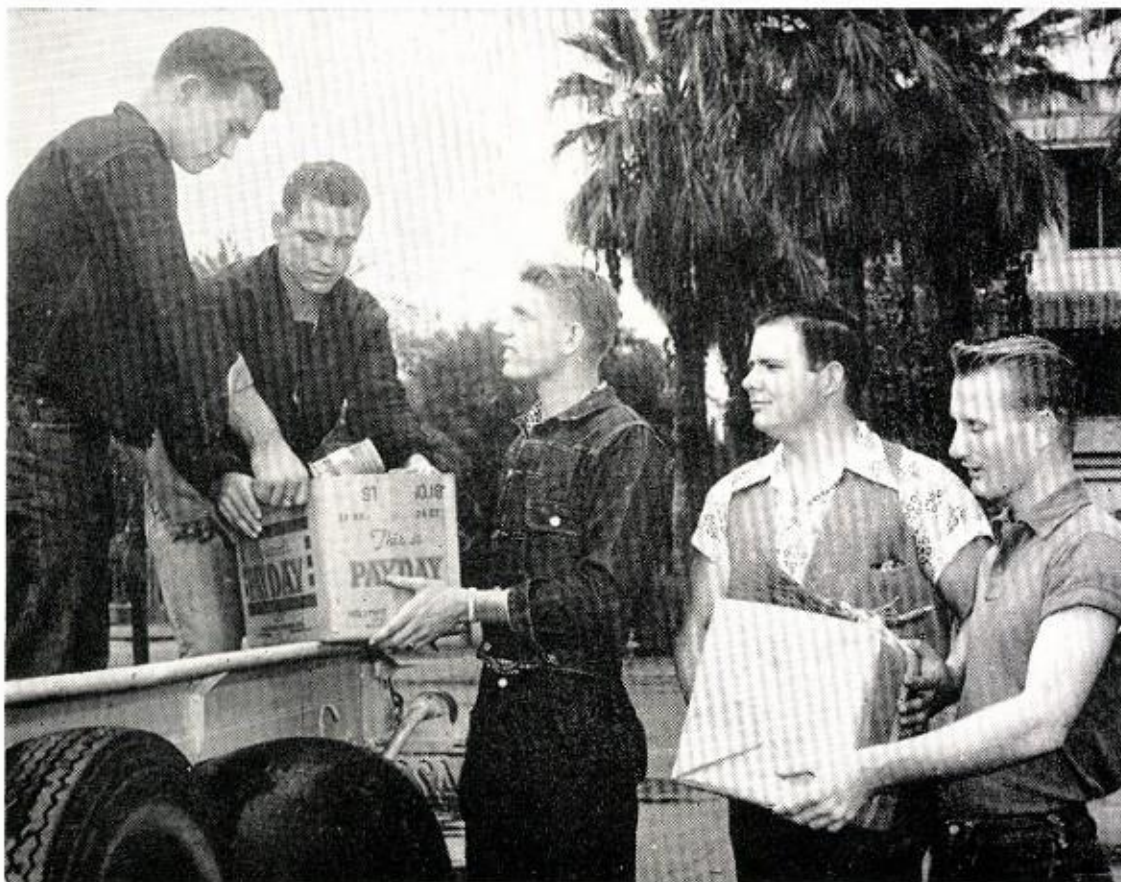

IT CAN'T BE said that Phoenix Union students are too involved in their own affairs to worry about the world at large. This year the school went all out to support national, state, and city-wide drives. Led by Shirley Phillips, Student Council's service chairman, everyone gave all he could to what ever drive was being pushed.

First was the Crusade for Freedom. We went right over our goal. Then the Save The Children Campaign came along, and usable clothing poured in.

For Red Feather we gave not only as individuals but also as groups.

AT CHRISTMAS over 20 homerooms gave baskets to needy families. The Girls' Letter Club, Florence Nightingale Club, Senior Council, Sophomore Council, and Friendship Club also had Christmas projects. In February we raised $300 for the March of Dimes, and the Tri-Y Teens collected magazines for the State Hospital. Later in the year we sent books to the prison at Florence.

Girls' League Keeps Busy

WHAT DOES A GIRL consider fun? You don't know? Then you should participate in some Girls' League activities. Approximately 200 girls consider it a source of great pleasure to work on their class councils while the other 1500 girls enjoy participating in every activity.

CENTRAL COUNCIL consists of eight department heads and four council officers. The League gives each girl the chance to participate by sponsoring an activity suited to every taste.

AMONG THESE are Midnight and Roses, Every Girl's Dinner, Sweetheart Ball, the Mother-Daughter Tea, Follies, the Maid of Cotton Fashion Show, the Senior Style show, and participation in three state conventions and the Southern California-Arizona meet in the autumn.

SUCCESS OF THE League should be measured not by its activities but by the leadership it has developed. The organization stacks up with any other having lasting qualities.

Standing are Tussey, Martin, Altschul, Adamson, Ford, Evans, Johnson, Phillips, White, Prather, Pappas, Blanchard, Sharkey, Chavez, Miss Mateer, and Wilson.

Boys' Federation

They're Traditionally On The Ball

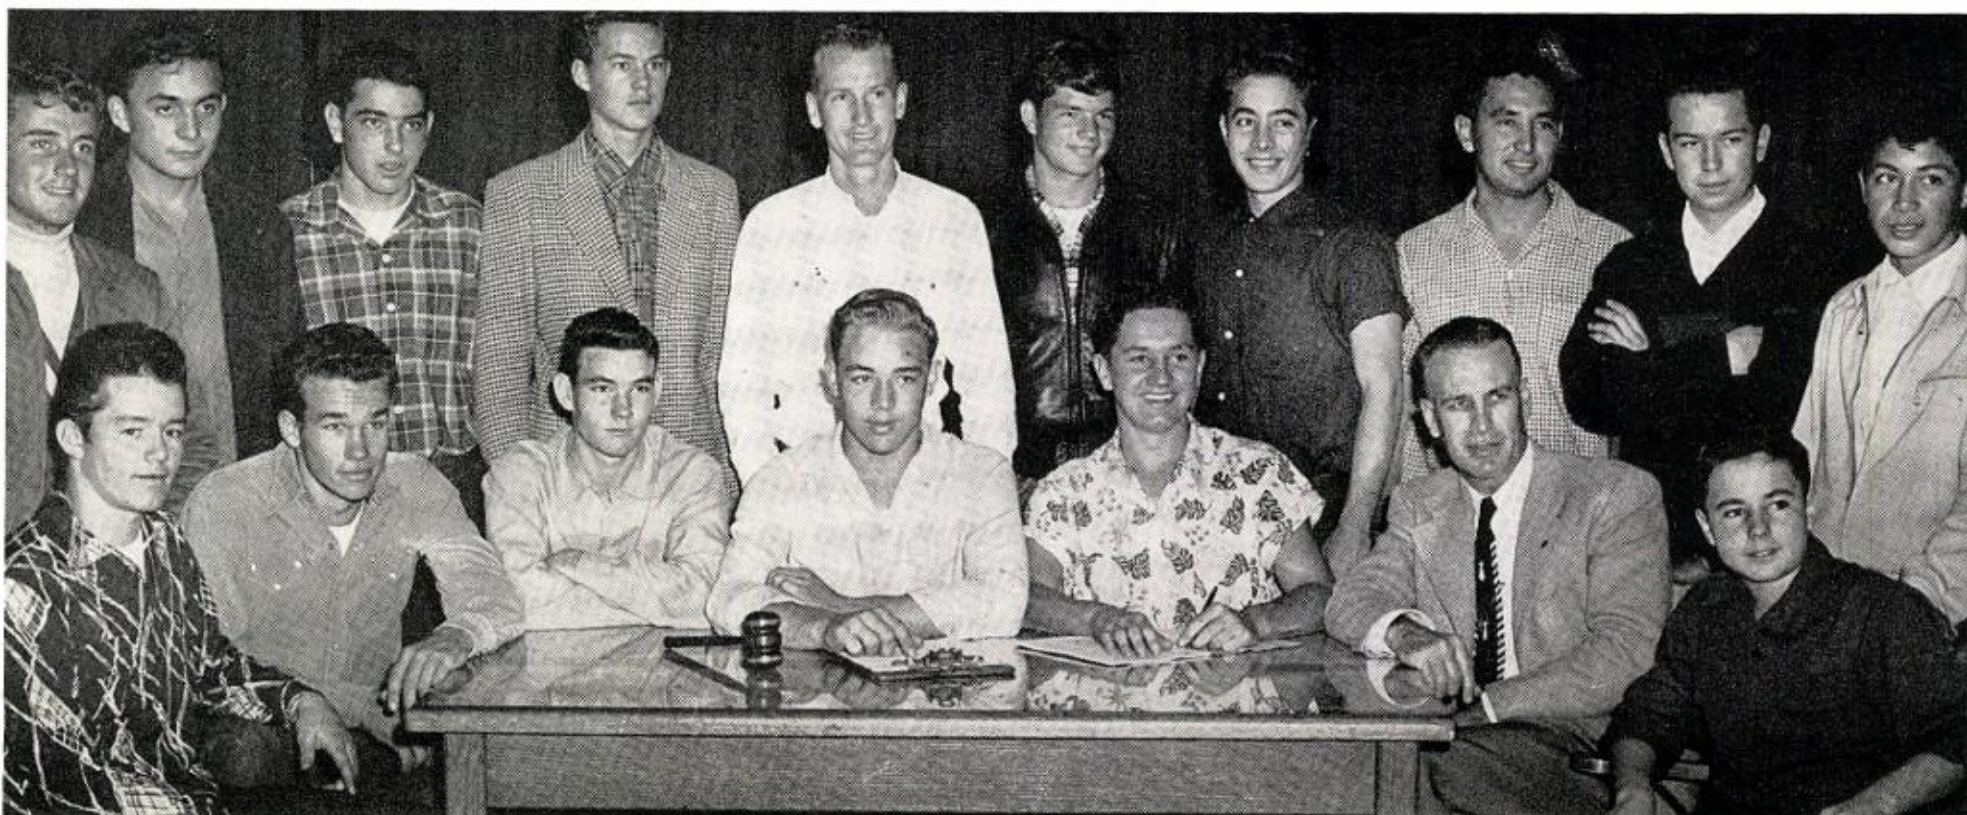

THAT OLD SAYING, "Jacks of all trades, masters of none" becomes "masters of all" when it refers to Phoenix Union's Boys' Federation. This year they proved that boys can be just as active—well nearly as active—as are girls. Under the guidance of a new dean, R. E. McCullar, they promoted drives at Christmas and Easter, patrolled the Cafeteria, and put up posters for a major portion of all school events. They were always ready to serve . . .

THEY CO-SPONSORED the successful All-School Follies and the Frontier Dance. But the major job of the Federation is to help needy boys get through school. Many of these boys still remember the joy they felt when handed a free English book, lunch pass, or bus ticket.

BEST OF ALL, however, is the feeling of "belonging" these boys extend to every newcomer.

Fulton, and Quintana. Seated are Mitchell, Sorenson, Duffy, Etz, Sutter, Mr. McCullar, and Kenny.

Our Friends The PTA . . .

ALTHOUGH PTA means Parents-Teachers' Association, progress, trust, and action would fit the letters equally well. Mrs. Henry Harmon led the group through a busy year of drives, parties, and open houses. This year their theme for the year was "Know Your School" and the members did all they could to make sure that everyone did just that.

INSTEAD OF having one general open house, there were many; they opened the buildings one at a time, enabling parents to meet and spend more time with individual teachers.

PTA SPONSORS the health program, scholarships, student services, recreation, juvenile protection, legislation projects, and also the Parent Education classes whose theme this year was, "How Much Freedom Does A High School Student Need?"

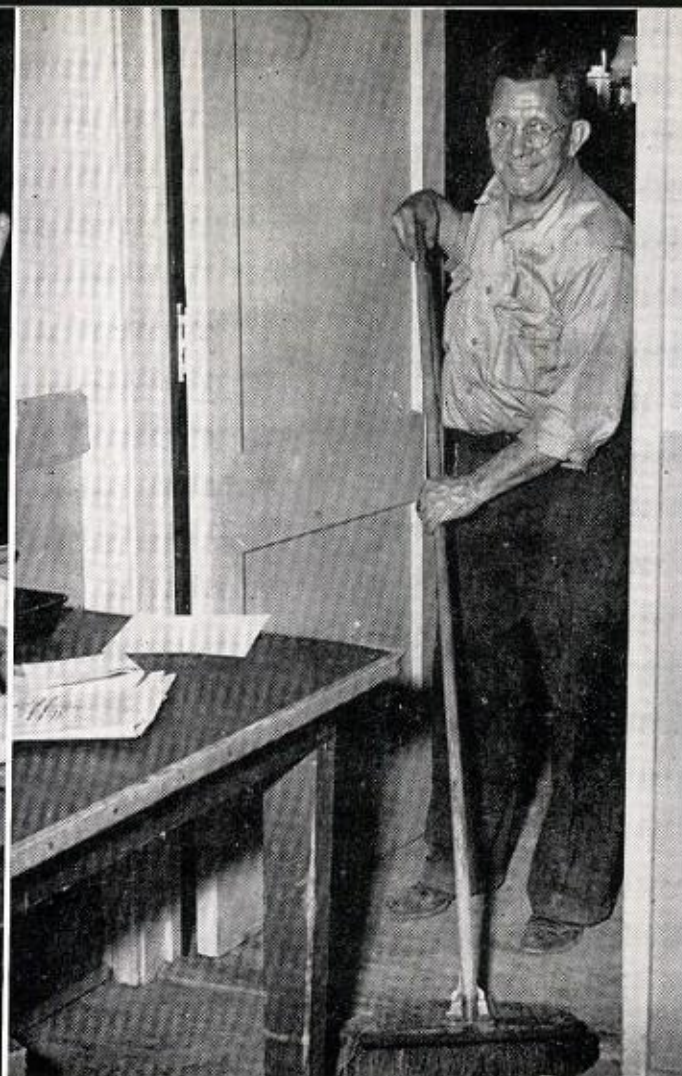

OFFICERS were Mrs. Harmon, president; Mrs. E. G. Tussey, vice-president; Mrs. John Neal, second vice-president; Mrs. Ross K. Shaw, recording secretary; Mrs. Walter Heart, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Roy Harrington, treasurer; Mr. J. J. Wagoner, auditor; and Mrs. F. E. Brown, parliamentarian.

ACCEPTING homeroom memberships from Bobbie Ross is PTA president, Mrs. Henry Harmon.

PARTICIPATING in one of numerous PTA panel discussions are from left Mrs. Mildred Wood, New, Smaw, Sternberg, Casteneda, Mrs. L. Cowan, and Mrs. R. A. Hedges.

THEY KEPT our school running. Left: Schofield Schwartz, head of maintenance for the whole system, and Don Walters go over

Behind The Scenes . . .

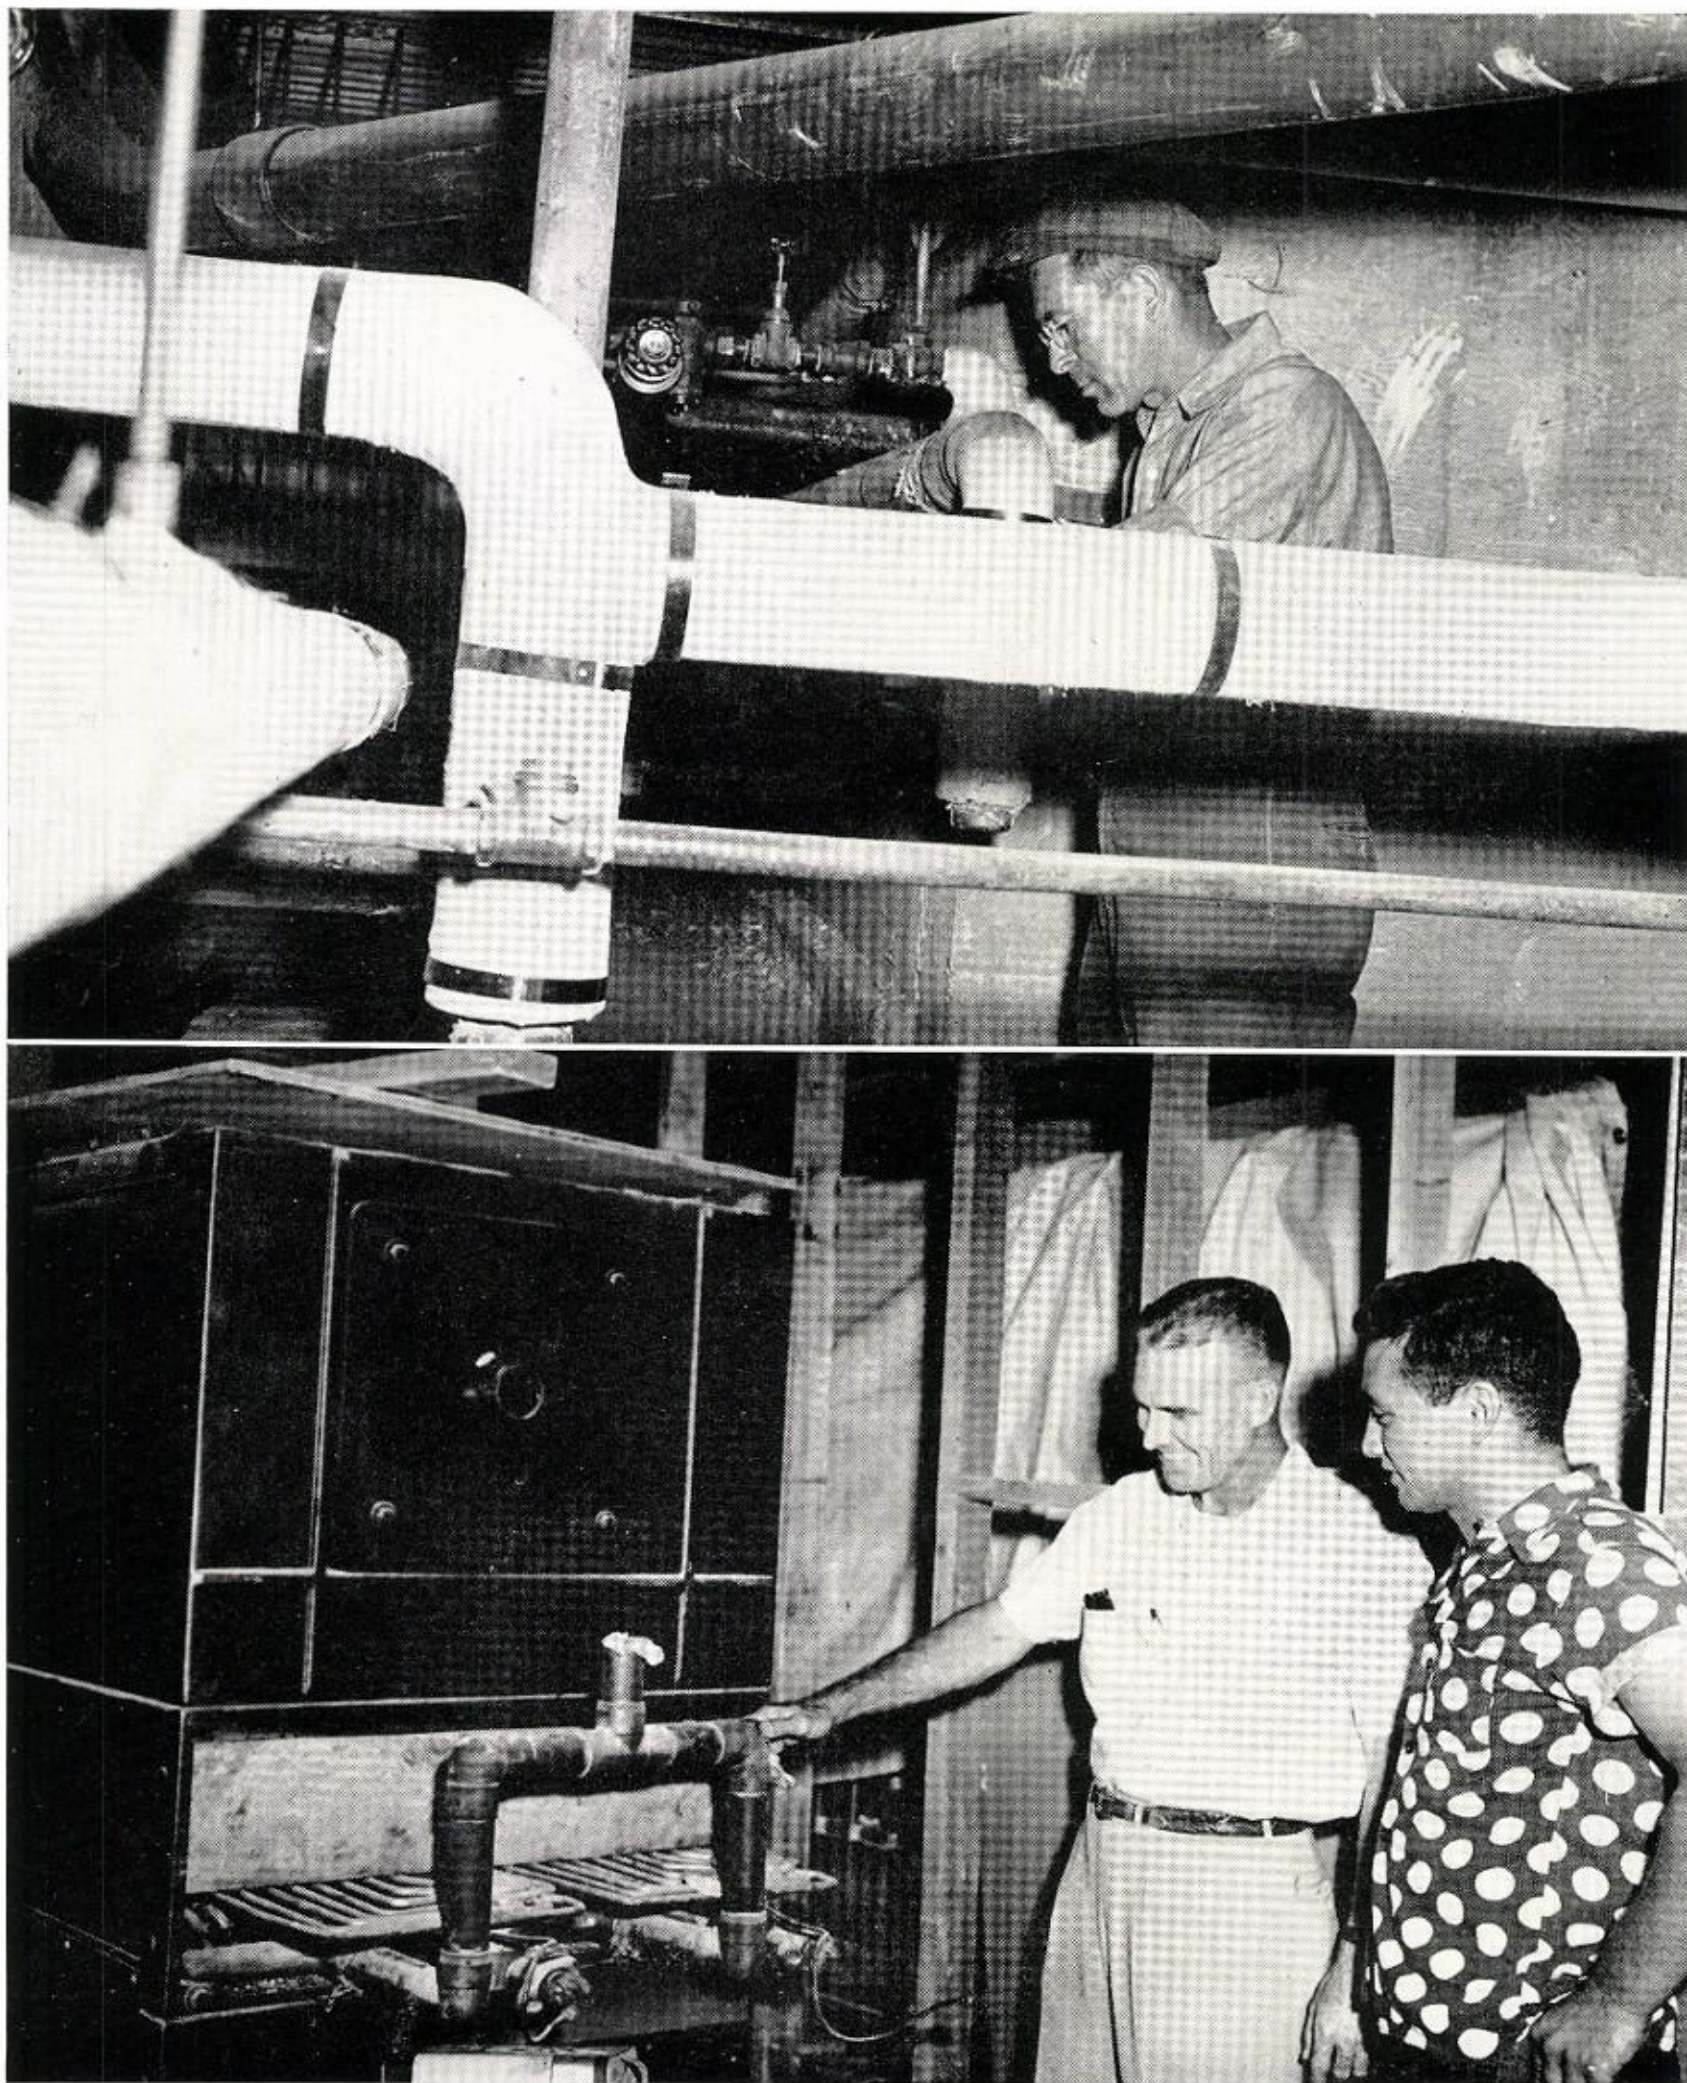

SCHOOL DAYS become broom days if you're talking about Phoenix Union's standbys. Long after the students and faculty leave the campus, these hard working men and women remain to clean up after us. They cook, sweep, they dust erasers, they polish, they wash windows, and yet they love it. "Why not?" they'll ask you. "Plenty of people would give a lot to remain in high school all their life!"

THEY'LL TELL you they've seen many kids graduate from Phoenix Union and it really pleases them to see youngsters advancing in the world. Yes, these behind the scene workers feel as much a part of the school as anyone else does, and they should!

GOOD FOOD is the keynote of these pictures. Left: Mrs. Kennedy and Chef Joel Von Blomburg ready the special Follies anniversary birthday cake for sale. Right: Cafeteria helps enjoy delicious food they've just prepared.

UPPER: C. E. Osborn checks piping and wiring in the underground tunnels for the new building. Lower: Dean McCullar and Jess Celaya go over improvements in Building I.

Progress! MAYBE THE BOARDS of the Ancient Mariner's ship buckled, but nothing in our newly remodeled Administration Building will deteriorate in the same manner. The building has now the utmost in modern facilities. The Health Center will not be out of date for years to come. The offices are now built for service and convenience and not for show. Everything from the tiles on the basement floor to the ceiling of the second floor have all been taken care of . . .

ALTHOUGH THEY aren't bragging, these teachers tried to imitate our Pom-Pon girls at the faculty party. Their grace and precision had fellow faculty members rolling in the aisles. Top Row: Lucille Cameron and Bonnie Emmerling. Middle Row: Keats Kelly, Mary Louise Branigan, and Anne Arnold. Bottom trio are Janet Daou, Carolyn Lane, and Roberta Stevenson. Believe it or not, the faculty crowd does know how to cut a few capers . . . !

Teachers Pets? No! They're Teachers!

Faculty At Play . . .

COYOTE CAPERS are for faculty too! Once they get away from the humdrum of class routines, our sometimes stern-visaged teachers relax. . . let down their hair, and enjoy life. . . almost as if they were youngsters! Seriously, everybody knows the value of funfests, and teachers are no exception. Scene above shows the faculty in a "name game" during a Halloween party at the Cafeteria.

SUCH PARTIES ARE IMPORTANT in other ways. In a school employing over 130 instructors, it is possible for our teachers to be strangers with one another. The brief introduction newcomers receive at the opening of school requires follow-ups at social functions if the teachers are to become acquainted. In fact, some of our younger pedagogues are taken for students by the old timers! But not for long . . . with the teachers' Social Committee on the job.

FRIENDSHIPS between teachers and students are an accepted fact at our school . . . part of the tradition of a friendly campus. And setting the pace in jollity and good will are the department chairmen and our deans.

GONE FROM the memory of all but the oldest inhabitants are stories about sourpuss profs. Genuine love of young people, a keen sense of humor, and a zest for happy living mark our teacher-friends. Our Coyote Capers would be mighty feeble without teacher encouragement!

HOW TO PREPARE a good meal and how to make a living as a craftsman are of equal importance in the democratic world. Our teachers are trained and admirably able to impart such lessons.

WATCHING Robert Bell and Alice Fox display the proper way to type are Betty McCubbin, Joseph Miller, Charles Ad-dair, and Loyd Elliot.

EVERY PERSON has within himself the qualities of a true artist. Trouble is that many of us take a lifetime to discover what was latent. One of the chief purposes of the Art Department is to awaken that feeling for artistic beauty in students.

BRIGHT COLORS, rhythmic tones in varied designs; perception, balance, and understanding of good photography . . . those are a few highlights among the many awaiting interested students. Traditionally, art students take a generous share of prizes in annual contests.

MATHEMATICS TEACHERS are supposed to be old fossils. What then are these pleasant-featured, gentle people doing in the Math Department? The truth of course, is that the perplexing problems, rather than the teachers, have sent dread into the quaking hearts of the beginning students in algebra, geometry, and the like.

MATH PROBLEMS today are no easier, but more interesting methods for solving them are now in use. For mathematics holds the key to the Atomic Age . . . which we are now enjoying. Interest in modern developments makes math an exciting adventure for many.

Mathematics Masters . . .

MUSIC TO CHARM . . . that's been the function of sweet tones and rhythm through the ages. Our Music Department is well staffed to inspire students with a love for the classics and a thoughtful evaluation of all other types of music.

NO FUDDY-DUDDIES are they! It never fails to surprise young Coyotes that teachers so well versed in fine arts can get a real kick out of popular music. But they can mix it to taste and how we enjoy the opportunity to eat it up!

Pip, Pip! English Faculty Capers

WHO HAS MORE FUN than anybody? Those English teachers! That statement might not make top grade in a grammar test, but even English teachers stop bothering about questionable construction when there's no question that fun's in the offing! Clever games, crazy initiation stunts for new staff members, and dee-licious refreshments are an expected part of the English Department Capers.

Orientation

Guiding Lights

GOOD ADVICE should not be counted as unimportant, especially if it comes from a trained counselor, skilled in problem-solving. Programming one's future is a responsibility requiring expert help, and that's just where our orientation instructors come in. From them one learns how to plan a course, how to get along in difficult classes, and in what field it's best to specialize. Our librarians, too, will a similar role, guiding students to treasures of literature.

YOUR PROBLEMS are theirs! Orientation teachers (seated) are Ethel Rosenberry, Eleanor Wallingford, Clifford Prather, Keats kelly, Helen Etz, Lucille Cameron. Standing: William Gates, John McCarty, Forrest Darsey, John Waters, and L. N. Butler.

Physical Education

HAPPY are these teachers, who have nothing to do but teach kids to play! In spite of the confusion, noise, and hustle in their work, they do maintain a constant goodwill that is the envy of their fellow teachers. From left: Ruth McNeill, Mary Louise Branigan, Berneil Maxey, and Elizabeth Blake.

Their Work Is Play . . .

RANKED HIGH on the list of important activities in high school is the physical education program. Here students learn to play the game . . . fairly, skilfully, and energetically. Not only do they learn sportsmanship but they build strong bodies and form health habits that can well mean longer and happier lives after they leave school.

DIRECTED BY Coach Robinson, the Physical Education program has attained new goals and reaches out to every boy and girl who wishes its benefits.

PLAY BALL! Whether it's football, basket, base, or tetherball . . . these are the fellows who can teach you the game's rules and demonstrate the finer points. Having a good time over

History Experts

History Changes . . .

AND NOBODY knows it better than our teachers of social education! Keeping in tune with the times is customary with teachers. Not only do they encourage reading current news magazines and newspapers, they also expect students to question what they read and be able to argue intelligently. Pictured above are, from left, Cecel Nicolay, Harry Eagan, Alda Sherman, J. J. Wagoner, and E. D. Tussey. Bottom: Lucille Anderson, Clifford Prather, Ralph Ogle, Ruth Cole, and Eric Kolberg.

Up and Atom Scientists

WATCH OUT! While H. H. Turner chuckles, John L. Ewart, James R. Wilson, and Dale G. Mullins have fun with over-size spiders . . . dead ones, of course!

Science of the Times . . . CONTRARY TO THE serious nature of their courses, our science teachers are a jolly lot. They are always for a gag picture in the annual, quick to appreciate a humorous situation, ready to enjoy life in the same measure as their Capering Coyote students. But when it comes to putting across the lesson in chemistry, biology, or general science, they shine even more brightly. Everybody enjoys work and play in science. In the world of electronics and atomic energy, it's exciting!

GOOD EGGS are these science instructors, who evaluate eggs large and small in the display case decorated by a large eagle.

Don Coyote Learns About Science

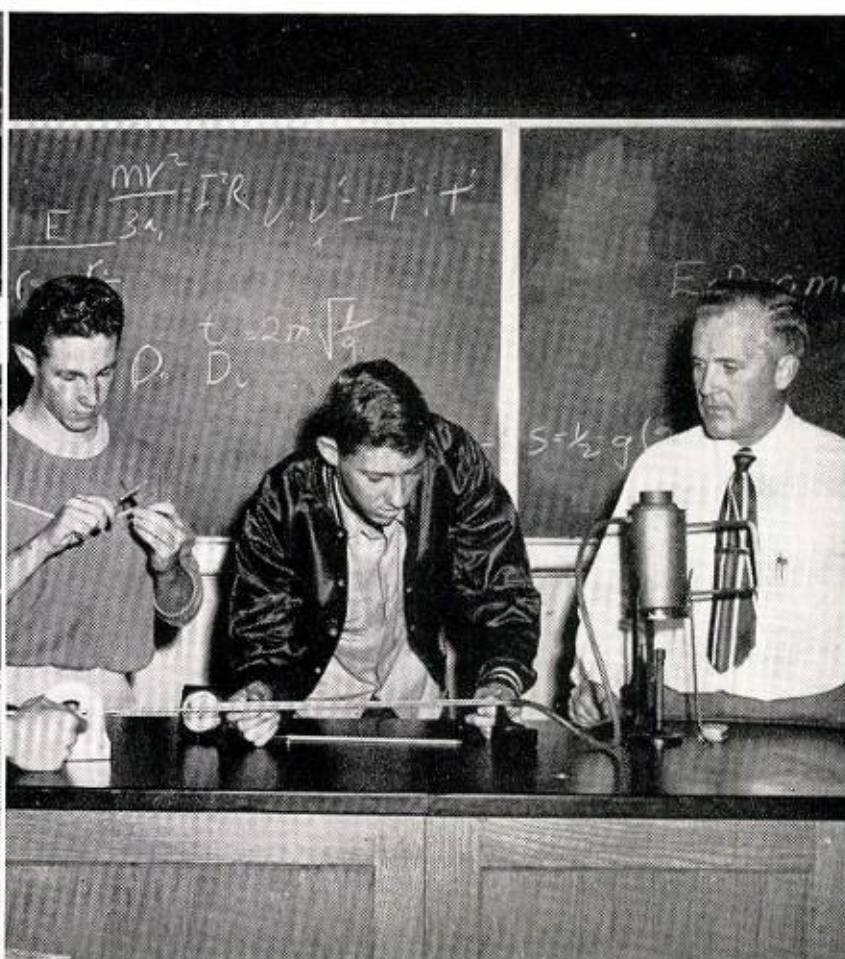

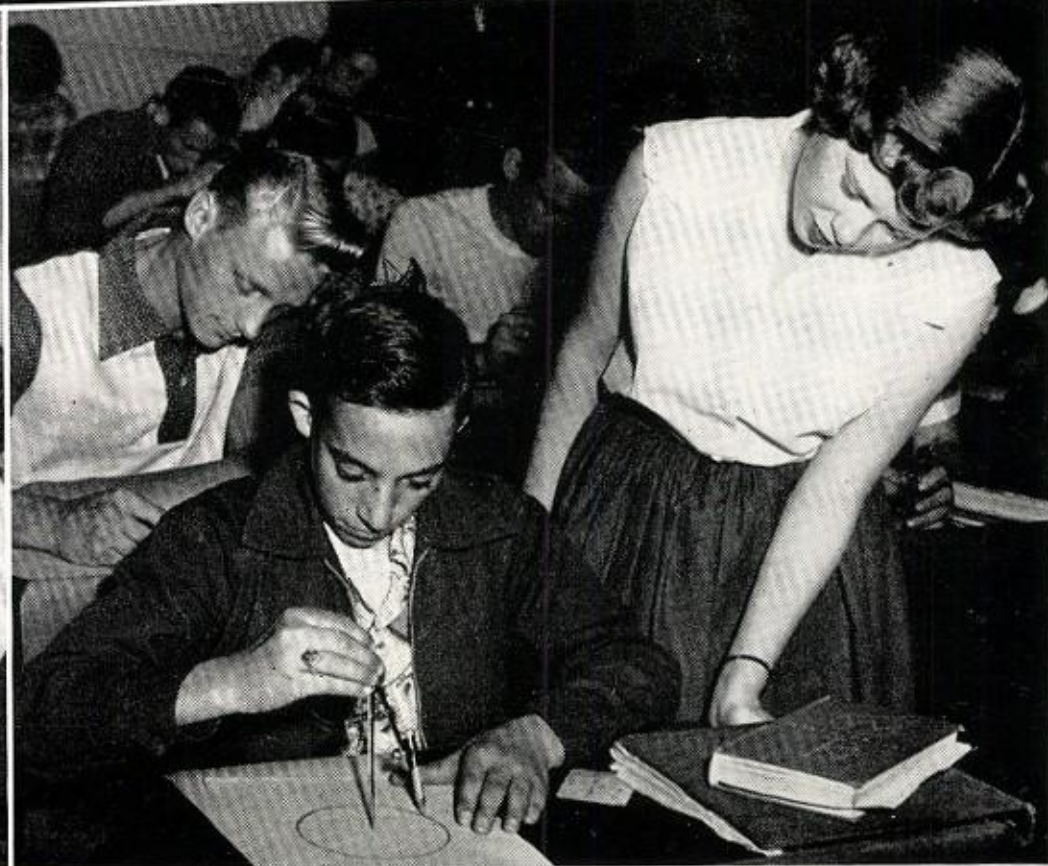

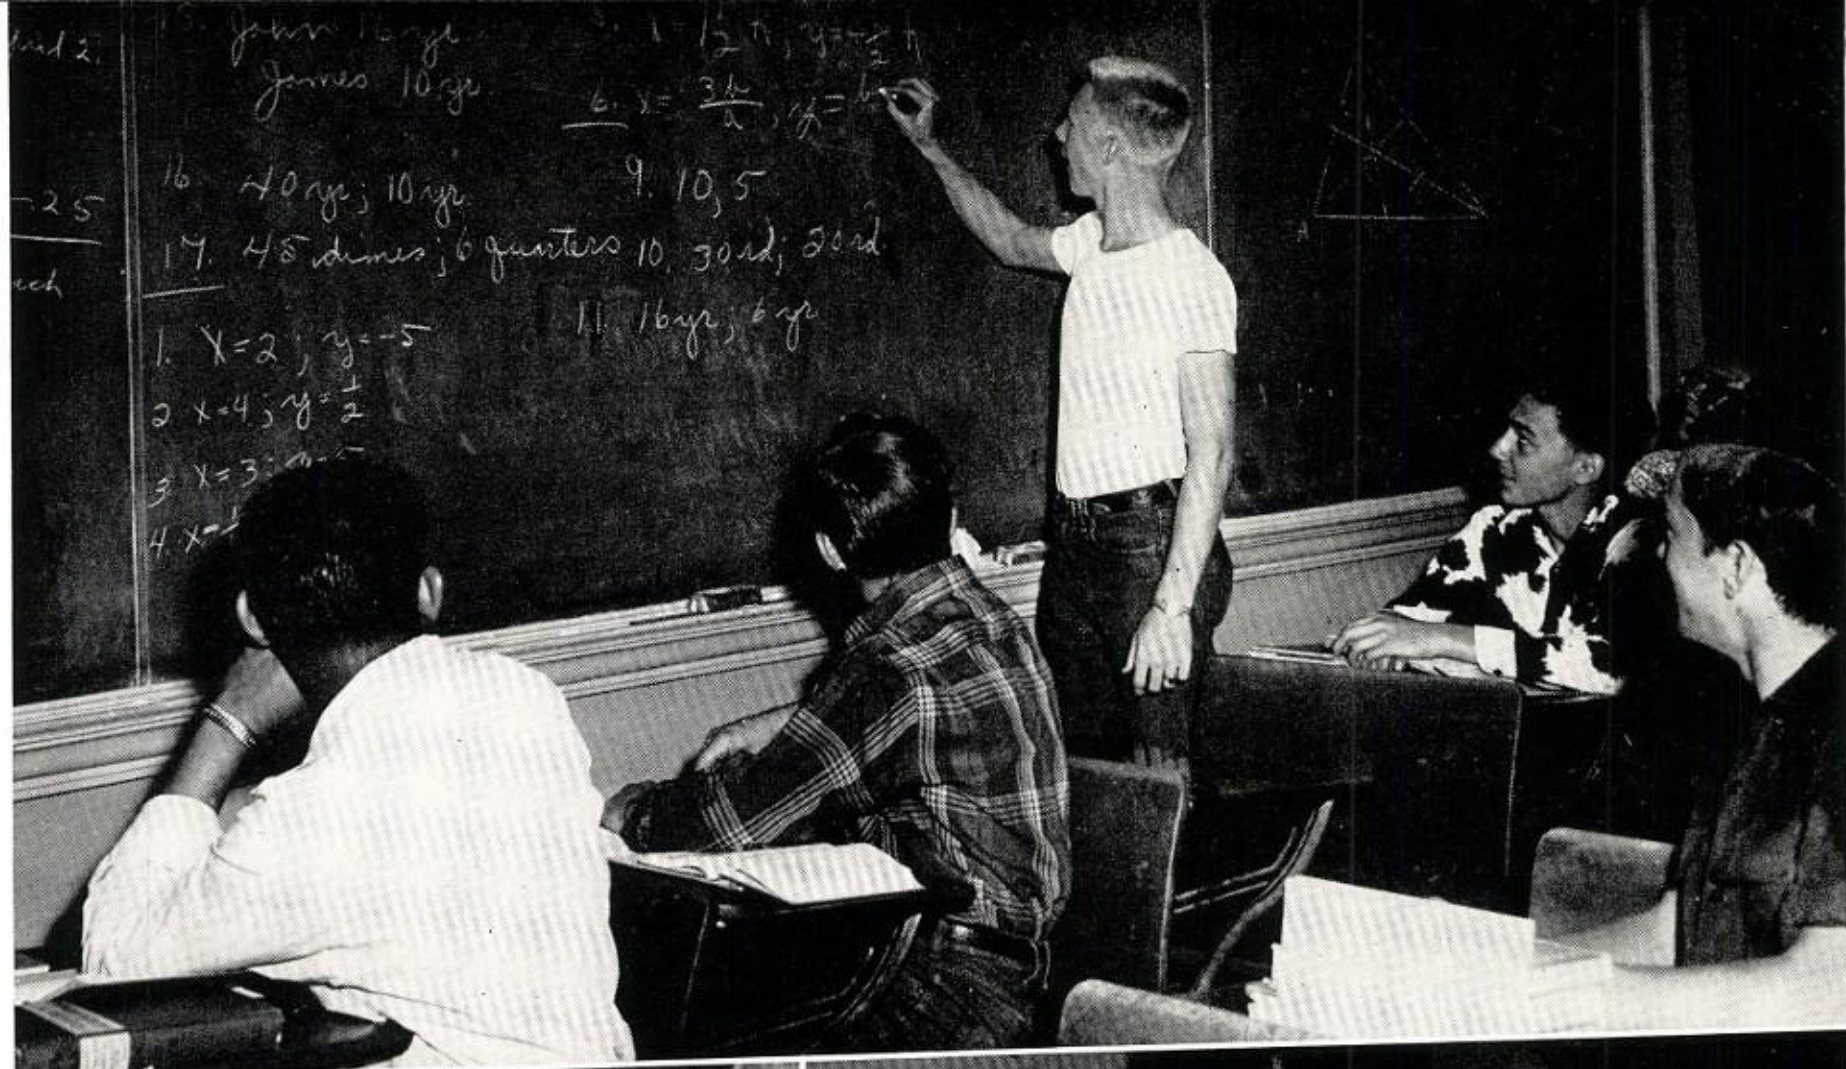

BOOM! CRASH! BANG! Yes, that's Don Coyote in the chemistry laboratory. He's participating in the electronic and scientific age. All he has to do to enjoy such fun is register for one of the numerous science courses! Maybe he wants to be a weather man—so, he signs up for meteorology. Perhaps he intends to be a laboratory technician; therefore he'll take both biology and chemistry. Or maybe he just needs a science course to graduate.

AT ANY RATE, he takes a science. Then when school opens, he goes to the building that smells like rotten eggs. Department Head H. H. Turner will tell him that this is really hydrogen chloride. Even so, he'll go to the Third Building where he will find out what makes the world tick. Here are the stepping stones of the Atomic Age. Perhaps Don Coyote will invent a workable space ship, or a wonder drug to save mankind from every ill!

FUTURE Einsteins at work are in foreground, chemists Rosealee Sanchez and Don Neve; and right James Mooreson, Charles

That's The Way To Figure It . . .

MATHEMATICS—Algebra, geometry, and trigonometry, are an essential part of our daily living, enabling us to learn how to think and reason logically. Every time we set foot into a store it involves a mathematical calculation. More and more colleges are now requiring students to have at least a year of higher mathematics for entrance.

ACCORDING to Mr. L. S. Farringer, mathematics is essential to our everyday living, so it's not strange that more students are taking math courses in this highly scientific Atomic Age. Thanks to our highly efficient Math Department under the supervision of Mr. Harry Phillips, we can expect to have our share of brilliant mathematicians in the future.

Craftsmen . . .

PRACTICAL is the word for Phoenix Union's Auto Shop. Here boys learn how to repair anything in a car while they get credit for being in a solid course. As Andrew Gilbert holds a torch, Buddy Villapando putters with the motor.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS—the department that teaches you to make and fix things that would ordinarily cost you money. Yes, that just about summarizes our shops. Here, under the guidance of expert instructors, students can learn how to do little jobs around the house as well as how to prepare themselves to make a living.

IN GENERAL shop students are offered one term of work in each of six different shops. Here they can make a choice for further study. Machines, woodwork, metal, radio, mechanical drawing, printing, leather work—all these are offered. Craftsmen of tomorrow are being trained right here!

THE SHOPS will teach you anything from fixing a leaky faucet to making your own car. Left: Powell and Vasquez work on a

Well Informed Citizens

OUR SOCIAL EDUCATION Department may well be proud of the variety of courses it offers Don and Donna Coyote. Here one can learn anything from ancient history to the latest charges Russia's Vishinsky has made in the United Nations. Students who take international relations can give you sound arguments for world federation, and asking a world geography student about the hermit kingdom of Nepal won't get you a blank stare.

TEACHERS AIM to make students well informed citizens. Courses like citizenship and Problems in American Democracy give a better insight on society and Southwest History can give us a better picture of our own Arizona.

... Getting The Business

SECRETARIES and businessmen of tomorrow can get their best start right here at Phoenix Union. The Business Education Department, under direction of Mr. Eugene Brock, has for its sole purpose the task of preparing students for just such positions. Here you can take any course from beginning typing to commercial math. Every student has a chance to learn how to operate the various office machines he will later use.

FUTURE SECRETARIES can practice in that capacity under the various department heads. Practice makes perfect and experience is the best teacher! Besides this, the department is responsible for printing various answer sheets and tests. Yes, this Business Education serves many purposes, all of them valuable.

Something More Than Grammar

"THIS IS A display ad," explain Danny Cohen and Pat Dixon to their freshmen English class during a newspaper unit study.

IT'S CALLED English, but much more is added than in past days when grammar was the major study. Creative writing is stressed; reading of plays, prose, and poetry provides an interesting variety of literary study as well as enjoyment.

RELATED DEPARTMENTS of English play a major role in both extracurricular activities and school work. Amateur thespians and orators display their talents in the dramatics and public speaking classes, at speech festivals and in oratorical contests.

WORD STUDY is also offered to students wishing to enlarge their vocabulary, prepare for college work, or simply curious to know more about their language. Journalism students find themselves in the hub of school life as they gather news and spend many hours in the busy Publications Office.

WE TAKE ENGLISH to speak and write better. Left: Russell and Chavez get a better understanding of vocabulary in Word Study by seeing pictures that explain their meanings. Right: Villapando and Blythe check the correct form for an essay with Miss DeLap.

Knowledge . . . And Friendship

TODAY, WITH OUR increasingly important political role in the world, it is imperative that students know and understand more about the people with whom they must work. Nothing insures this more than practical knowledge of other languages and civilizations. Phoenix Union's Foreign Language Department gives its students ample opportunity to gain this knowledge by offering Spanish, Latin, and French.

BASIC PRINCIPLES of the language are used as fundamentals while drill and homework are used to give a deeper understanding of people in other lands. This is the main object of the courses because through them evolves communication, thence understanding. In no better way can we formulate constructive activities to serve as a basis for international friendships.

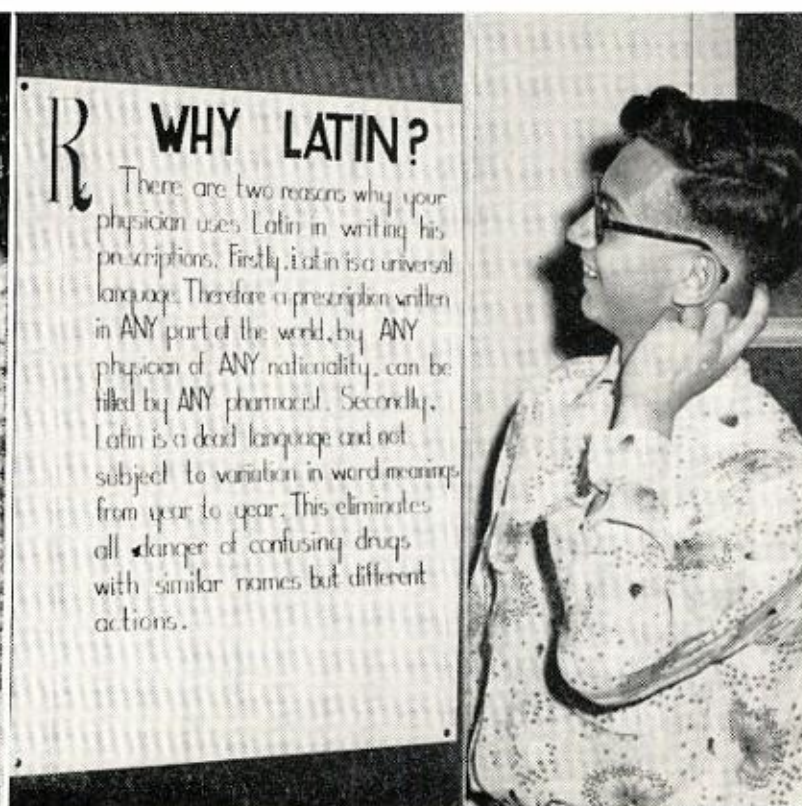

TRAVEL TALKS, movies, and extensive reading are fair substitutes for actual visits to the foreign lands they study. But this much is certain: with the world growing smaller each day, because of jet planes and speedier ships, all of us will visit these people we have studied about. We'll be truly United Nations someday soon!

VOILA! BRAVO! For distinguished service in teaching the language and an understanding of the French people, Mrs. Hazel Redewill is awarded the Palmes Academiques, one of France's highest honors. Presenting the award is French Consul Paul Coze.

A Good Wife . . . Is A Treasure for the future is evident from the large enrollment in the numerous courses offered by our extensive Homemaking Department.

EVEN IN THESE modern times of machines and gadgets that claim to do a housekeeper's work for her, a man still appreciates a wife who knows the art of good cooking and sewing. That our girls are well aware of this and are preparing

NOT ONLY GIRLS, however, but also boys realize the advantage of taking courses in a department that prepares students for a fuller, richer life after they leave school. If a career outside the home busies the little lady, Pa will find some cooking instruction useful!

They Keep Themselves In Stitches . . .

IN THE HOMEMAKING Building, it is no longer unusual to see a girl getting her hair cut or her fingers manicured, students comparing beef to horsemeat, or students listening to a speaker from India or Burma.

PLAY SCHOOL in child guidance and human relations is held one term out of each semester. Here approximately 30 youngsters visit the school. Students not only learn, but also see many amusing incidents that are a continual conversation topic.

IN PREPARATION for Marriage Course, outside speakers are often on the agenda. Another highlight is the discussion groups where a student leader takes charge and a recorder writes up the results. The homemaking courses are not only popular with Donna Coyote, but also with Don Coyote.

IT HAS BEEN SAID that a girl has mastered home economics when she has learned how to make the man do all the work. However, this isn't the case with the homemaking students at Phoenix Union. They are busy learning not only the conventional skills, but also the artistic.

HOME SEWING! Esley Gay models a Western suit she herself made much to the surprise and interest of Marge Millam.

Living Art: IT'S A FACT that art can be expressed in everyday things: the motion of trees in the wind, color in the garden, the rhythm of music, dancing, clouds racing across the sky . . . Our students have endless variety of choices in art work: sculpture, ceramics, photography, crayon, lead pencil, oil and water colors; fashion design, cartooning, poster painting . . . to mention a few. Whatever your interest, there's a way to develop your artistic urge, with skilled teachers to guide you. All art in this yearbook is student work.

PHOENICIANS have established a reputation for an appreciation of and unusual ability in things artistic. Much of that desirable quality gets impetus in our own Art Department.

For A Healthier Happier School

HEALTH EDUCATION and visual aids provide two more courses in Phoenix Union's intricate system of progressive education. Students earn non-solid credit while learning bits of information that will enable them to get a job later in life. Anywhere a movie is needed to make a course more complete or interesting, there's a boy and a projector to show it.

ANYTIME A STUDENT feels sick, School Nurses Ruth Askins and Jeanette Banker know just what the cure should be. Here are services and courses of practical value. Mr. Hays can remember times when as many as 15 movies were shown in one day, and Mrs. Banker gets a tired feeling whenever she thinks of the time the health center handled over 100 students in one regular school day.

Military Training

BIG WHEELS in the Military Department are Captain Victor Rodriguez, Lieutenant Douglas Bradford, Major Bert Lovas, and Major Edward Dodge.

Alerted For Duty:

BECAUSE OF THE WORLD SITUATION more men are being called to active military duty. When ROTC students are called, they will be given preference as future officers and non-commissioned officers. Phoenix Union's cadets were trained by Captain Eugene Bauer, SFC Donald Shea, M/Sgt. Maurice Brown, and SFC Claude Roberts. The unit took part in the Armistice Day Parade, was inspected by General Lew Swift, and participated in Federal inspection and Military Night. The staff consisted of cadets Victor Rodriguez, Edward Dodge, Bert Lovas, and Douglas Bradford. Company commanders were Don Biringer and Gene Pruitt.

and Owen. Kneeling are Phillips, Tocker, Smith, Olsen, Pruitt, Cesena, Rodriguez, Scofield, and Nye. In a departure from custom, Rifle Team membership was open to all students.

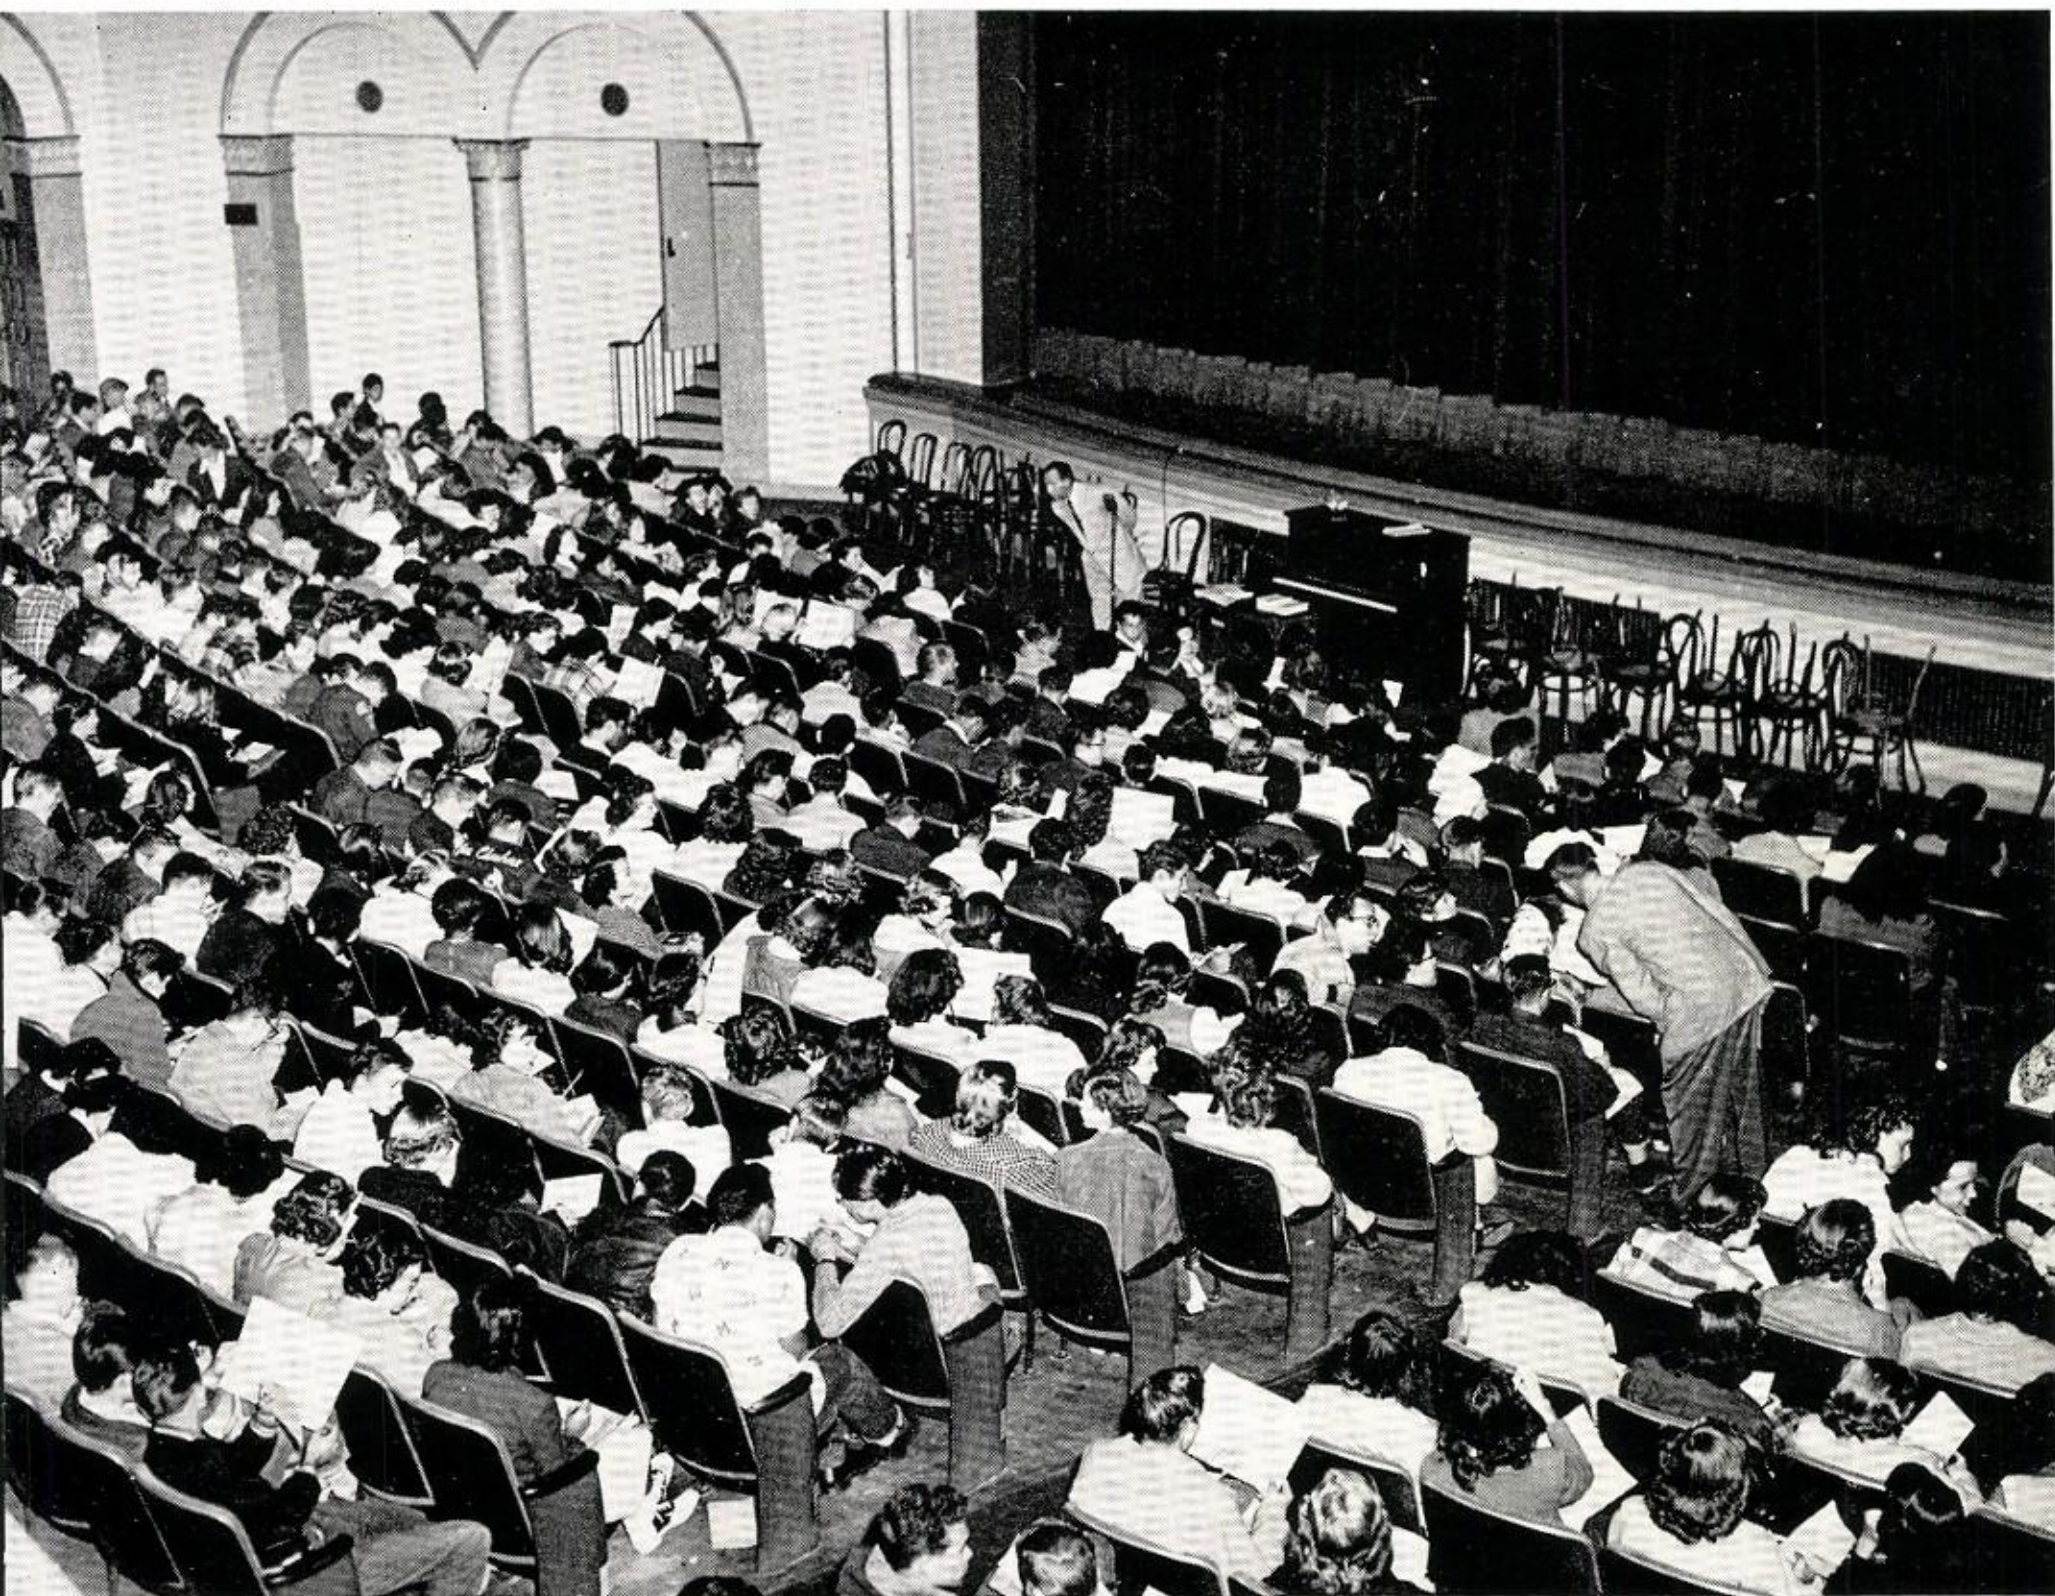

ATTENTION! The ROTC Unit assembles on field for this picture of precision. Knowing that tomorrow might find the world in fiery conflict, these boys have put more than routine marching into their officer-training program. Realistically, they understand that leadership and tactical training today can save lives and maybe nations in the future. Our Cadets are determined to do their part . . . Lower left: Machine Gunners Muirhead, Bennett, and Dodge take aim. Right: Unit Officers Mullins, Pruitt, Biringer; Row 2: Gates, Tocker, McCracken. Top: Olsen, Muirhead, Smith.

CLASSES

CLASS OF '53 assembles to register for second semester.

Class of '53

WELL, THIS WAS IT. Four years of study and fun has come to an end, and the seniors must make the big jump into the world of adult life. What's ahead? Who knows—maybe college, or business school, or marriage, or just a job. At any rate, the seniors will be well prepared, come what may.

THEY BEGAN as eager, innocent children just getting to high school. As the years progressed, so did they grow. They acquired more social know-how, began probing the depths of government, and made a lasting impression in this world.

WITH THE ADVENT of their last year, the seniors delved into their new position as The Class in school. Officers handled their positions capably, and the students gave the administration a big helping hand. The seniors made the school go!

fast at Hotel Adams. Right: Ford, Blankenship, and Adamson sew baby clothes for the Florence Crittendon Home.

Pretty Girls . . . Pretty Clothes

GIVING Kathy Godfrey descriptions of the various fashions Senior Council presented are Beverly Jacobs and Ginger Johnson.

WHAT WAS NEW and chic in winter clothes dominated the annual Senior Council Fashion Show presented on Oct. 28. Carolyn Refsnes was in charge of the event. Although the senior models were all beautiful, many of the boys will tell you that the clothes they wore took attention away from the girls.

THE SHOW was presented in three sections: sport wear, date wear, and formals. All of the ensembles were donated by Korrick's Department Store. Kathy Godfrey, local TV artist, acted as moderator for the affair.

GROOMING and fashion tips were also offered by the hard working seniors. Boys' Federation members also helped to make this event a success by ushering, putting up posters, and doing all the little jobs that needed doing, and when the show was finally presented, it was evident that at least one-third of the audience was composed of members of the male sex. Yes Senior Council did a grand job!

Their Record Is Commendable

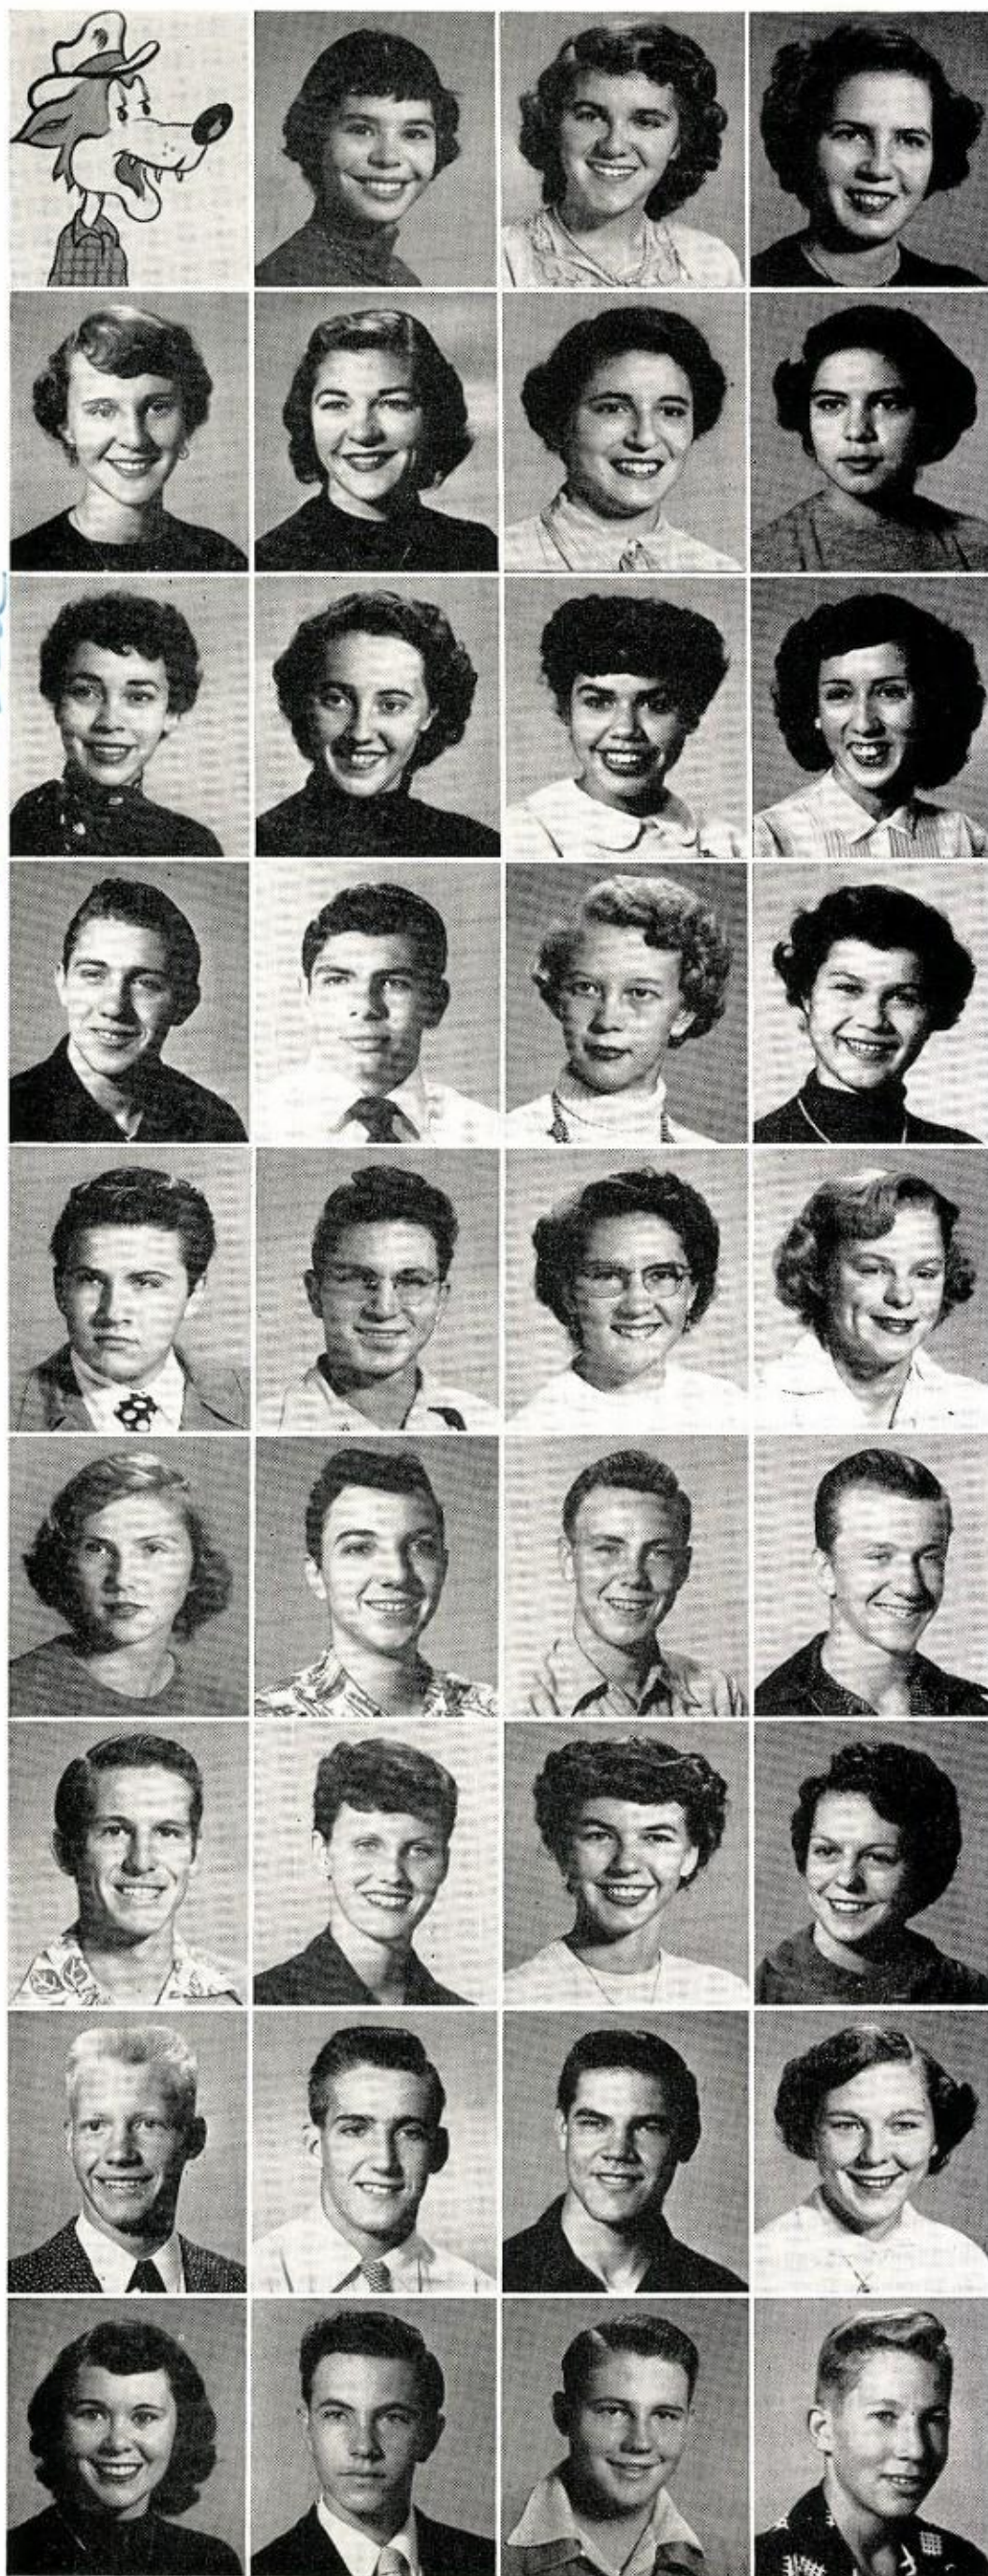

ALL THROUGH the year the juniors thought to themselves "We're getting closer and closer to the top!" And they were. They proved capable, and activities galore crowded their busy schedule—the Prom and the first All-School Play, Alice-in-Wonderland . . . Junior Council's mystic Crystal Ball.

THE MONTHS WERE marked by hours of buzzing activity, and the juniors threw themselves into the heat of election campaigning. First came the student body election, then Girls' League and Boys' Federation, topped off by the voting for next year's class officers. We're proud of the Class of '54.

Nobody Out - Yelled Those Sophs!

"WISE FOOLS," THEY'RE called, but sophomores are more wise than they are foolish . . . This year's sophomore class, energetic and rarin' to go, supported the athletic teams like nobody's business. They ridiculed the freshmen for their typically frosh enthusiasm, then proceeded to out-cheer and out-yell all other classes

A STEP HIGHER on the ladder, they could act as high and mighty as an upperclassman, or regress to the freshman stage of laughter and merriment. Nothing could stop these fun-loving kids.

THERE WAS A SERIOUS side to this class, too. The Red Feather drive was pushed ahead by the tremendous success of the sophomore sponsored cupcake drive. Sophomore Council took an active part in Girls' League, and laid out preliminary plans for next year's activities. No subject seemed too tough; every dance, game, or picnic to come along was "best yet." How could such Capering Coyotes fail to enjoy life?

co-ed party. Right: Mills, Gregg, Puccinnelli, Spencer, Duncan, and Mathes sign petitions for next year's junior class officers.

Class of '56

AMBITIOUS freshmen officers meet to check the dates of future events. They are Don Kenney, vice-president; Marie Gassler, secretary; Dean Hume, president; and Jackie Harmon, treasurer.

THEY MAY HAVE COME into Phoenix Union as scared little freshmen, wary of the worldly and aloof upperclassmen. It wasn't long before they got into the whirl of high school activities, though. They attacked the mazes of algebra and Latin with diligence, meanwhile enjoying school funfests. Ardent supporters of the athletic teams, they also joined clubs and went to the dances. That "lost" look dropped away and became the "found" look as the year progressed.

THEY "BELONGED," that was sure, and they made the rest of the school know they were here. The Class of '56 highlight was a dandy co-ed party.

Thus We Grow

to be condescending, or downright superior; teachers, busy with large classes and overwork, may seem too abrupt or disinterested . . . But with orientation comes growth. Understanding, self-confidence, and a genuine liking for the school and its program are rewards which each freshman finally receives.

FAR FROM BEING the wandering whatsits of the campus, our frosh soon learn the ropes and often lead discussions in class that might do credit to the lofty seniors. School . . . it's wonderful! Especially our own Phoenix Union High!

STUDENT LIFE

Heaven is in the heart of the child who has a heart as sister and a love for the world of the heart. I hope to be doing it now as you think it is a noble and noble thing to do. We hope to take it away with the big heart and a beautiful heart and a heart that is a heart
Be a heart that is a heart / I hope to be doing it now

AMERICA'S emblem is spelled out by the combined Boys' and Girls' Bands.

Silver-Year Follies

MUSIC IN ALL FORMS and varieties was the object of this year's Follies. Themed, "Record Album," the show was presented by Director Lois S. Halladay in a manner well fitted to meet every taste. Throughout the presentation, a giant spinning record, set in motion by Barbara "You-all" Robins, the star, gave the show a touch of authenticity.

THIS WAS THE second of the combined boys' and girls' shows—but it was also the 25th anniversary of the Follies. Each year they had improved in scenery, plot, and style, until this year the comments seemed too good to be true.

ALTHOUGH SHE'D tell you most of the credit should go to the hard-working kids who participated, Director Halladay again proved herself to be a master at pleasing the public. The audience applauded from the opening by the Concert Band to the closing with the A Cappella. Twelve directors and 500 students took part . . . yes, it was quite a show, and we played it to the hilt!

Larson, and Clay make like Frenchies in the "Folies Bergere." Over 500 students took part in the show.

'Round 'n 'Round Spun the Record

FINALE OF THE Follies had the A Cappella singing the school cheers set to music while cheerleaders (from left) Anne Wickersham, Ginger Johnson, Annette McCoy, and Lupita Valasquez danced to the catchy music.

All-School Follies

THE RIGGENS Sisters, Shirley and Beth, did a brisk tap dance.

Cutie Capers

raised, and the show began to roll. Probably most unusual features of the event were the novelty dances. Six in number they ranged from eccentric comedy routines to serious chorus lines doing a ballet. Then too, Della Martin, Phoenix Gazette columnist, recorded an act while Sarah Bearman, a sophomore, mouthed the words.

AS IF THESE ITEMS weren't enough, giant crowns descended from above, department store statues came to life, and a girl performer was used in a trampoline act for the first time in Follies history. What a show! Once again the drama department had scored.

Beauty's Court

TO BE CHOSEN one of the top four Salad Bowl princesses is quite an honor when you consider that 44 candidates entered from all over the state. Well, Phoenix Union's candidate, Bridget Brady, did that. Along with girls from West High, North High, and Cottonwood, she placed among the top four. Phoen Union also helped to make the yearly benefit a success by having its band play in the parade and helping to build a float sponsored by all the city schools—the first time that such a co-operative effort was attempted. Our students really capered through this show.

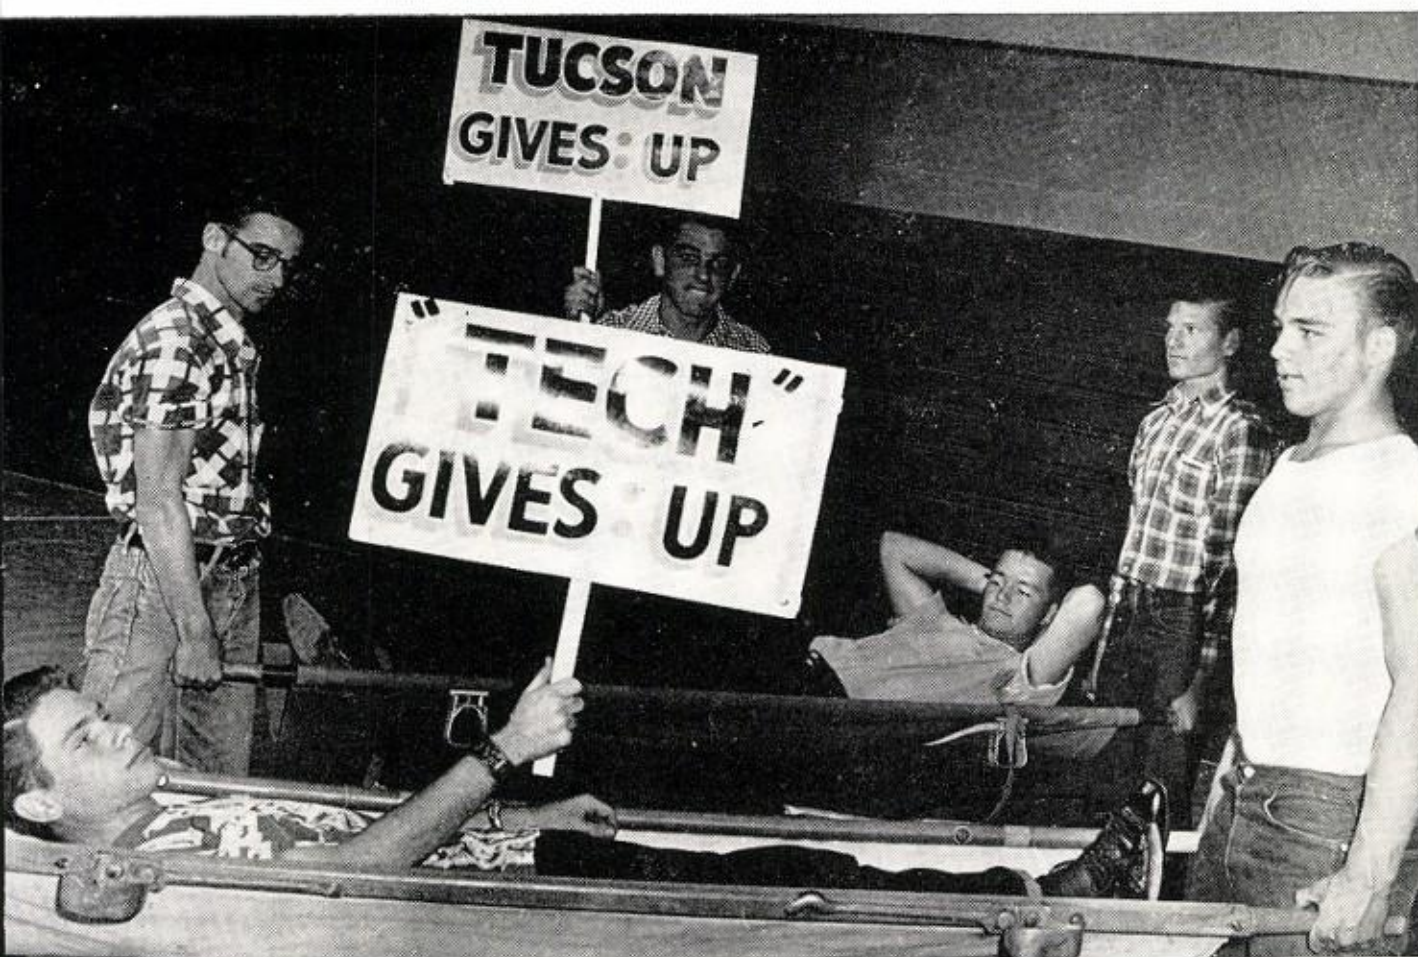

PEP IS THEIR business! Our cheerleaders have unending vitality as they keep us enthusiastically cheering for our teams whether they are winning or losing. This year's pep group was (bottom, left to right) Head cheerleader Barbara Robins, Betty Hoover, Florene Ryan, Alice Mendoza and (back) Bill Hoffman, Pete Garcia, and Ed Dittell.

Pep Merchants On The Job

OLDEN DAYS were here again when the Pom Pon girls donned flapper costumes for a pep assembly staged in 1920 style. Watching other entertainment during the program are (left to right) Ginger Johnson, Dixie Morrison, Joneal Williams, John Etz, Beverly Nelson, Mary Jo Johnson, Shirley Little, JoAnn Lewis, Barbara Wright, and Sandy Wright.

Merry, Merry Christmas!

CHRISTMAS . . . the season of giving. Christmas . . . the season when one rejoices in a new or continued faith. Christmas . . . the season of joy, merriment, and fun for all. Phoenix Union lived it to the fullest extent. Twenty homerooms went overboard to donate baskets to needy families. Nearly every club in school had some sort of a Christmas project — whether decorating a ward at a children's hospital or giving a faculty tea.

YES, THIS was the time when the Oratorio Society again presented its annual assembly and again thrilled listeners with the music that filled the auditorium. It became the season of parties, caroling, laughter, and perhaps a touch of sadness. To a few, it was merely two glorious weeks of vacation. Christmas meant a lot of different things to different people, but they all appreciated it.

KISS MISS SPIRIT! Making use of an age-old custom are Tom Council, Lidia Avila, and Wayne Mullins.

MILTON RASBURY directs the Oratorio Society in its Christmas program. Glamorous pine trees, sparkling lights, and choral music got us in the Yuletide mood.

Happy Holidays:

Work can be fun prove Finley, Hurler, and Warren as they decorate the trees for the annual Christmas assembly.

Greetings! Marlene Bellinger, Sally Card, and Carolyn Refsnes (above) help the Marine Corps prepare boxes for the Toys for Tots Drive. Lower picture: Brown, Morris, Kimbrough, and Mason pack a basket for a poor family.

Politicking:

I GO POGO! That was the battle cry of election-minded PUites during the hectic campaign. Climaxing this Coyote Caper was the giant Pogo Rally staged in the Boys' Gym. Upper left: Helen Wilkins and Sally Bement lead the Pogo theme song while Doug McGrath (upper right) gives with a blood-and-thunder oration. Below: The enthusiasm of the crowd is reflected in the faces of these rabid campaigners.

STAGE CREW members played an important role in "Alice." Tackling scenery construction for twenty set changes was no easy job as workers Flo Criste, Carolyn Refsnes, and Anne Wickersham well know!

Our Alice . . . In Wonderland

MAKE-BELIEVE at its best spotlighted the stage for the Junior Class production, "Alice In Wonderland." With 50 speaking parts and 20 set changes, the Carroll classic offered one of the largest casts and most colorful settings ever presented by the Drama Department. Under the direction of Willard S.

Jacquot, our student thespians laughingly—but quite successfully—transformed themselves into such unforgettable characters as the March Hare, Mad Hatter, and Humpty Dumpty.

A SPECIAL children's matinee—presented for the first time—brought an unequalled enthusiastic audience as Alice involved herself in various predicaments including her shrinking, arrest by the Queen of Hearts, and her hopeless arguments with the Mad Hatter. "Alice" was not easy to produce—but cast and crew found their labor marked by the fun and excitement which keeps dramatics such a popular activity.

"WE'LL FIND out what's in the black box!" During a spy scare on a British warship Lloyd, Devenney, Gollub, and Musgrave rummage through the personal possessions of Register, who is tied to the bed. Play was titled "In the Zone."

Their Success Was Three-Fold

AN INNOVATION highlighted the Senior Class Play! Reminiscent of W. Somerset Maugham's "Trio", three one-act plays presented as the senior production by Willard S. Jacquot and Chauncey Shepard were met with great success. "Jinxed" was a laughable tale of a confused and complaining waiter who is confronted with a "Claims Adjuster" from Heaven. How he learned to stop complaining gave the audience laughs galore.

THE OTHER COMEDY, "Sunday Costs Five Pesos", dealt with a fine for fighting on Sunday, a love-sick young man who carved doors, and a fight between two angry señoritas. Each hilarious moment held the audience until the end, and many a chuckle was heard after the final curtain.

"IN THE ZONE", the third and most dramatic of the trio, was the story of a group of sailors on a British munitions ship in World War I. Smitty's cabinmates suspected him of being a spy and of plotting to blow up the ship. When they took steps to discover what they thought was his dark secret, they ended up not in a spy plot but in something more tragic.

THIS PLAY was again presented in the Valley Speech Festival and in an assembly. The seniors might well be proud of their three class productions . . . they were perhaps the most unusual and best received of all school shows. Hard work and an extra amount of patience again paid off for the drama classes.

Senior Players

"OH, WHY don't you stop bothering me," screams Barr to the amazement of Egger, Seymour, and Chudley, from play "Sunday Costs Five Pesos."

ZOWIE! WOW! At left stealing a kiss on the sly are Hancock and Fox. Right: An indignant Jeanne Prather decides to ignore

Jerry Hancock. Could it be the "Hamburger Special?" Both scenes are from the comedy "Jinxed."

Happy Journey

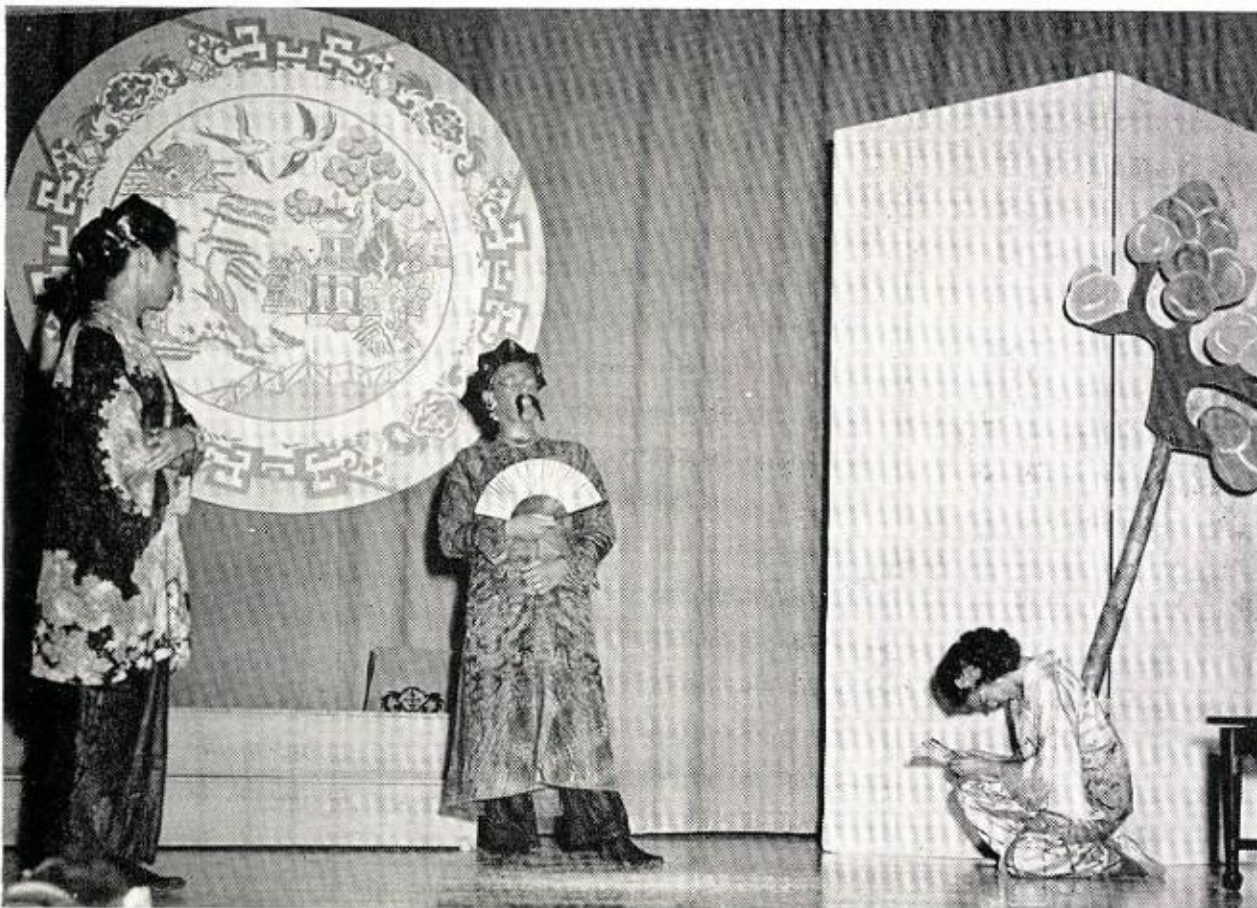

"GOOD-BYE!" shout Davies, Willis, Lees, and Doyle as they embark on a "Happy Journey."

Assemblies, Plays Were Tops

ASSEMBLIES were many and varied this year. Left: Yee, Faust, and Tang look and act Oriental in "The Romance of the Blue Willow." Right: Students from Phoenix Tech entertain our students in an exchange assembly.

Tell It To The Judge!

PRETTY BOY Salerno bounces across the stage (upper left) in the Midnight and Roses assembly twirling the key to his heart. Upper right: "Snow White" Caceletto begs stern Judge McGrath to decide the case in favor of her instead of Boyfriend Lombardi. Lower left: A casualty in the Spotlighters' assembly was Wilkens (on stretcher) borne by Pallbearers Knipsner and Smith. Happy crew that brought about his untimely end are Cheatham, Egger, and Szabo. Lower right: Henderson seems to be in a happy mood, probably because of the slaying.

ASSEMBLED for their regular double-general assembly are the members of the Cocadettes. Officers for the year were Margaret Boulden, president; Bobbie Lou Southerland, vic-president; and Joyce Brown, secretary. Girls' Band director is Harvey Zorn.

Here's Music To Make The Heart Sing . . . !

PHOENIX UNION'S Cocadettes Band has the distinction of being the only all-girls band in the Southwest. About 90 girls compose the select group that augments the Concert Band for appearances at the football games.

THIS YEAR for the first time the Cocadettes presented a joint program with the Concert Band and also an assembly of their own. The majorettes for the Music Department are chosen from this group of well-trained musicians.

Maids O' Music

Striking Rhythm, Lilting Harmony

PLAYING IN assemblies, the rodeo parade, the Salad Bowl parade, and the Masque of the Yellow Moon were only a few of the events that the Concert Band worked on this year. This band, with over a hundred young musicians, gives students the chance to develop their talents. As usual the organization again presented an outstanding spring concert and again delighted the audience.

THE SWING BAND, composed of the best players in the boys' and girls' bands, plays at the basketball games and at the annual Swing Band Jamboree — an exceptional performance of jazz and modern swing. Director Harvey Zorn led the band through another successful year of fun and music.

ONE HUNDRED boys and girls compose the Concert Band. Officers were Snooky Eubanks, president; Doug Burroughs, vice-president; and Margaret Boulden, secretary. Long hours of practice paid rich dividends in music and marching precision.

ORATORIO SOCIETY gathers to sing the year's first program . . . one of many designed to entertain students, faculty, and townspeople. Director Milton K. Rasbury stands behind grand piano at center of stage.

JAMES SPARLING (left) hums "Silent Night" while Dean Carman gives the Christmas Program benediction. Right: McKenna, Bement, Seolas, and Clark harmonize with some Christmas Carols.

... Bringing Joy To Listeners

FOR THE FOURTH time the Oratorio Society was asked to sing at the University of Arizona. This was quite an honor for the group which had entertained Phoenix Union students all year long. They presented two assemblies, performed in the Masque, and at Eastertide presented their annual oratorio—this year, Mendelssohn's "St. Paul." Besides that, the society acted as a public relations link between the school and community by singing for various civic organizations, among them the Rotary and Lions' Clubs.

COMPOSED OF advanced vocal students, the choir has long maintained its reputation as one of the most distinguished and professional groups on campus. Director is Mr. Milton K. Rasbury.

Orchestra

MAESTRO Eugene Lombardi starts the Orchestra on another musical journey.

Tuneful Notes At The Downbeat!

MUSIC AS YOU like it is the motto of one of the fastest growing organizations at Phoenix Union—the Concert Orchestra. The group, under the direction of Mr. Eugene Lombardi, presented two assemblies for the student body this year as well as the annual spring concert done jointly with the A Cappella Choir. Their sweet music, which ranged from popular numbers to classical pieces showed that these musicians enjoyed practicing with their instruments. Members won high acclaim from musical directors throughout the state. Their public was generous, too, with applause and praise.

THE CONCERT Orchestra entertained Phoenix Union students throughout the year. Attilio Serafini was president.

A Cappella

GATHERED 'round the piano are the Senior Trio and accompanist, Anne Wichersham, Ginger Johnson, Lupita Velasquez, and Annette McCoy.

Harmony To Thrill You . . .

PRETTY GIRLS and melodious melodies! Yes, that's Phoenix Union's A Cappella Choir with its new director. Miss Sue Davis took over the reins of this all-girls' musical organization. The group participated in many activities this year including Easter and Christmas programs, the Follies, and their annual assembly.

AMONG THEIR varied programs, they always have novelty acts that tend to keep the audience on the edge of its seat. No wonder the students at PUHS enjoy the choir's performances!

lines to meet. Many a time they burned the midnight oil and kept typewriters going full blast. Our budding journalists have learned the importance of co-operation through their work—for it is only by acting as a team that they can accomplish their objectives.

ACCLAIMED as one of the nation's outstanding student newspapers, the Coyote Journal of 1952-53 maintained its high standard while giving its readers an accurate, sparkling account of school activities. Well liked, especially, were "Question of the Week" and interviews with prominent Phoenicians . . . as well as the rollicking Hallway Echoes.

STAFF MEMBERS cut some pretty clever capers this year when they published one Journal after another and then finished the year off with the Phoenician. Journal staff workers knew what fun it was to publish newspapers, but they also knew the meaning of hard work, with constant dead-

"OURS WILL BE the best yet!" The annual staff began the year with this slogan and have kept it as their by-word right up to publication day. Living up to their determined hope has not been easy, for it is no small job to produce a complete book. Contrary to popular belief, the annual is begun at the very start of school. The staff does not have the easy "springtime" job of simply collecting the news of the year and binding it into one volume.

THE THEME POSES the first problem, followed in rapid succession by a rough draft of the book, countless picture appointments, copy assignments, and numerous other small tasks which are necessary for the success of the Phoenician. The Phoenician is now another completed book, but hopes of its real success are yet to materialize. Among these are that it will be comparable to the long list of All-Americans that have gone before.

Well Accustomed As They Are . . .

A FULL AND REWARDING year was experienced by the public speaking students. They did everything from hearing trained speakers to becoming trained speakers themselves. "The Manners and Morals of Modern Youth" became the subject of the annual Rotary Speech Contest. All contestants performed with the poise of finished speakers. Gary Nelson, with his Constitutional oration, "The Living Word of Freedom," placed third in the district contest. He won the honor of representing Phoenix Union by defeating over 80 candidates.

WHEN ADLAI STEVENSON visited Phoenix on his pre-election tour he spoke at the Fox Theater to a capacity audience, among them the public speaking classes. Students felt this was a rare treat.

O How We Danced . . . !

MORE CAPERS! The 450 couples who attended Midnight and Roses were fancy free and full of fun. For the first time in many years the theme was the same as the name of the dance—simply Midnight and Roses. Decorations featured a large moon, stars, and baskets hung with flowers.

DON BAIRD and his orchestra with soloist Margie Swift provided music and the dance went off without a hitch. Yes, this was the time for romance by moonlight!

A LOT OF hard work was needed to make Midnight and Roses a success. Here chairmen, Annette McCoy and Shirley Mahaffey, make arrangements by phone.

Swing Your Pardner!

THAT KEYNOTED the atmosphere at the Boys' Federation Cabinet and the Girls' Letter Club Frontier Dance. Spotlighted was entertainment by Henry Wasiliewski and his Calico Kids. The Westerners, of television fame, provided the music. No slicks were allowed—all were in Western attire. Firearms were left at home since the sheriff and his posse were raring to go. The dance was a great success and all who attended had a real Western time . . . climax to the Western dress-up day at school.

Enthusiasm Was Unanimous

ran for head cheerleader; and third, a girl running against another girl and a boy disproved the old belief that a boy running against two girls would always win, or visa versa.

TED AMAZED and won the complete confidence of all students when he declared, "Some people have said to me, 'What are you worried about? No one's running against you'. This doesn't matter to me, however; what is important is how well you'll fill your office when elected. I'll do the best I can." He must have been convincing too, because he won by an overwhelming majority of all votes cast. Others elected were Pat Finley, vice-president; Dottie Thonen, secretary; and Betty Hoover, head cheerleader.

BEING NEW DIDN'T hinder the 70 girls who joined Freshman Council. They immediately showed their initiative by having such an unheard of thing as a pickle

UNDER THE CAPABLE leadership of Jeanie Prather, Frances McGee, Cecelia Torres, and Geraldine Mills, Sophomore Council managed to sponsor several successful class parties. Its 60 members also kept busy with many service projects such as a Christmas party for the Golden Gate Mission. They also entertained Freshman Council at a dinner. Wise In Council:

SENIOR COUNCIL can justly boast of having had a successful year. Their first major activity was the annual senior fashion show, followed by the senior class co-ed party, and a sewing project for the Florence Crittendon Home. Miss Keats Kelly was council sponsor while officers were Geneva Martin, Sue Ford, Shirley Phillips, and Annette McCoy. Yet while the seniors were working hard, the juniors weren't asleep. They were planning and organizing the Crystal Ball, their major council project. However, the 70 members also found time to render assistance to the junior class when working days for the Prom rolled around.

A CHRISTMAS service project and a class co-ed party took up the rest of the energy that the peppy juniors displayed. In preparing for their senior year, the girls left behind all underclass habits and blossomed out into prominent Girls' Leaguers. The Council was led by Marilyn Gilliland, Jenny Pappas, Tayeko Nakagawa, and Stana Kulinovich. Mrs. Lucille Cameron, new sponsor, did a bang-up job on a difficult assignment.

Senior Hi-Y Rates Plaudits

LAW MAKERS: Hurler, Doss, Celaya, Fulton, and Berleemann get some tips for the model legislature from Harvey L. Mott, Governor Pyle's secretary.

PHOENIX UNION'S chapter of Phoenix senior Hi-Y Clubs deserves praise, having again earned and kept its record as the best club for boys on campus. Holding meetings every Tuesday night at the YMCA, they decided to hold an all-school dance, a hayrack ride, a closed party, and to participate in the city basketball tourney. They were constantly on the go, planning and accomplishing.

IN THE ANNUAL model legislature, Jess Celaya was elected speaker of the House and many PUHS bills were passed. Officers were Jake Doss, president; LeRoy Hurler, vice-president; Bob Walker, secretary; John Fulton, treasurer; Nick Salerno, publicity chairman; Tom Corbin, social chairman; Jim Trammel, sergeant-at-arms; and Fred Sutter chaplain. J. J. Wagoner was club sponsor.

SENIOR HI-Y members are (first row) Zorbas, Tabor, Fussell, Powell, Hoffman, Jordan, and Brown. Second row: Phillips and Sorenson. Third row: Etz, Trammel, Clay, Currie, Celaya, Smith, and Corbin. Fourth row: Henkins, Chavez, Hurler, Conteras,

Walker, Doss, and Schartzner. Fifth row: Sutter, Salerno, and Mr. Wagoner. Sixth row: Reder, Orcutt, Caldwell, and Berle-mann. Seventh row: Fulton, Hall, and Warren. Officers report school-wide interest in the club points to an active 1953-'54.

DISCUSSION CLUB: Checking articles for information are (front) Sturm, Plock, Brown, Prescott, McDermott, and Mrs. Munson. (Back) Clark, Peck, Collins, and Falck.

Their Interest: The Printed Word

IN TODAY'S WORLD of thought one must learn to evaluate, and often take with a grain of salt, what is printed or said. The Discussion Club had for its purpose the training of students to discover the common errors of expression and thinking. With this important adjustment to learning the members were well on their way to success. All year long, they discussed — sometimes heatedly — current problems. Don Prescott was president.

ADS, MAKEUP, pictures and copy are only a few of the items that Phoenix Union's Quill and Scroll Society are concerned with. This club with over 20 members is responsible for production of the Coyote Journal and the Phoenician. Affiliated with the International Honor Society for High School Journalists, members ended the year's activities at a party where all new members were presented with their club pins. Gladys Lee was club president.

FACE TO FACE with the best dancers, musicians, and sports figures—that's the adventure members of the Auditorium and Stadium Clubs come up against each time they are called to serve. Both groups supply ushers for all events that occur in Phoenix Union's two showplaces and are trained to meet and handle the public. The attractive Auditorium Clubbers dress in bright red velvet jackets and white dresses for their job. Besides getting to see and hear outstanding programs while they work, club members become guests at the annual banquet each spring.

In The Spotlight:

THE CONJURERS and Spotlighters Clubs, both headed by President Joe Egger, earned themselves the reputation of being two of the most fun-loving groups on the Phoenix Union campus. The former was guided by Mr. Charles Adair and the latter, Mrs. Kathryn Munson. Both teachers expressed youthful enthusiasm in leading two such active groups through a full year of work and play.

BOTH OF THE organizations presented assemblies many students decided were among the funniest ever presented at this school. Besides these rather general activities, members displayed their individual talents at various shows and performances. All in all, club members became absorbed in school functions, to their betterment and the school's enjoyment.

Their Future Is Very Well Planned

OFFERING EXPERIENCE of practical value this year was Future Business Leaders of America, sponsored by Miss Ruth Bradish and Mr. Charles Cox. Members gathered experience in all phases of the business field. Tours through business houses and talks by Valley Bank speakers were most interesting.

EARLY IN THE year, 26 new members were admitted. The club gave members valuable tips concerning business careers and at the same time carried on social activities. Leading the group were Wilma Ritzman, Emma Lou Clayton, Bobbie Lou Southerland, Carolyn Bodge, Jeri McBride, Joyce Johnson.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS of America aim to succeed. Union's chapter kept in touch with others by attending district and state meetings and sending a delegate to the national convention. They clicked too, selling Pogo-Balls at election time and won second prize at the state fair with their exhibit.

ALLEEN PACE was president; Tayeko Nakagawa, vice-president; Sally Esler, secretary; Carol McElhaney, treasurer; Grace Brush, degrees chairman; Judy Johnson, publicity chairman; Reba Hogue, program of work chairman; Maire Lazok, recreation chairman; and Jenny Pappas, historian.

Recklessly We Roll Along . . . !

ALWAYS READY to roll and have fun at the roller rink are Phoenix Union's Reckless Rollers. Fun, fun, and more fun is the aim of this group which bases its whole existence on participating in the sport which achieves ever increasing popularity.

ONE OF THE LARGEST clubs in school, the skaters meet every Wednesday evening at the Rollerdrome. The 130 members held their first big party on Oct. 20. From then on until the end of the year members enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

SOMETIMES THE GROUP sponsored parties that were open to the general public. The students either brought their own skates or rented them at the rink. Messrs. Harold Martin and Kenneth Beals were sponsors for the organization. Officers were LeRoyce Hunter, president; Carlos Sebastian, vice-president; and Jack Jordan, secretary.

World Travelers:

apply for operator licenses and perhaps earn some money. Led by President Joe Egger, and Sponsor Hays, the group sponsored a full-length movie, "Francis Goes To The Races." Proceeds went to the student activity fund.

THE COSMOPOLITAN CLUBBERS were year-long armchair travelers. Through movies, speakers, discussions, and debates, students learned how people in other countries acted and thought. Highlight was a talk on Germany by Stefan Weissroth, exchange student.

ALL AROUND the world go these Cosmopolitan Club members. Standing: Shirley Mayer, Sharon Davies, Barbara Fitzhugh, John Brown, Miss Alda Sherman, and Ruth Rheinprecht. Seated: Louise Wolff, James Case, Nick Salerno, Mary Tarr, and Martin Shinedling.

Kenna (villain), Devenney, Hill, and Gonzales. In back: Day, Serafini, Lees, Stonich, Seymour, Ingram, Corbin, McGinnis, Mr. Jacquot, Olsen, and Lloyd.

Happy Groups: Masque & Gavel . . . Junior Hi-Y

ONE OF THE HAPPIEST groups this year was the Masque and Gavel Society. A branch of a national organization, this group abides by standards set for the whole country. To be eligible for membership, a student must have credits in speech or dramatics. Once in, the main idea is to have fun while learning. Between organizing and rehearsing plays, members found time to study fundamentals in acting.

THIS YEAR'S Masque and Gavel play was Thornton Wilder's "Happy Journey." Officers were Doug McGrath, president; Barbara Robins, vice-president; and Roberta Altschul, secretary. Sponsors for this gay group were Lois S. Halladay and Willard S. Jacquot.

HI-Y CLUBS GOT off to a head start this year with the forming of another branch group, the Hi-Y Coyotes. Composed of freshmen and sophomores, this gave underclassmen the same chance as the Hi-Y juniors and seniors. Every party or dance they sponsored was a financial success.

FIRST EVENT was a members-only Halloween party. Their Governor's Ball for the state Hi-Y Model Legislature was first dance of its kind. They had co-ed swim parties also with Tri-Y groups.

They Keep Right On Tri-Y-ing!

UPHOLDING THE IDEAS OF friendship on campus this year were the members of the Blue Tri-Y. Junior and senior members of the YWCA, the club was sponsored by Miss Ethel Brown and led by President Janice Gardiner. Numerous activities such as the annual Mother-Daughter Tea kept the group on its toes.

OVER 101 GIRLS composed the membership of the Tri-Y Teens, the freshmen and sophomore members of the YWCA. Their goals were to grow as a person, to grow in friendship with peoples the world over, and grow in the love and the knowledge of God. These were carried out in all activities throughout the year.

EIGHTY-FIVE MEMBERS attended the initiation party early in the year at Rosemary Lodge. Group sponsor was Mrs. Mildred K. Neely. Officers were Charlotte Jensen, president; Sharon Hill, vice-president; Ann Collette, secretary; and Kaydonna May, treasurer.

High Flyers

SKYRIDERS! Members of the Flying Club are Little, Gibson, Laine, Mullins, Knipscher, Herrell, Biring, and Pruitt. Club Sponsor Harvey Zorn kneels in front.

It's Great Sport!

TWO PHOENIX UNION clubs had fun at different sports — bowling and flying. The Flying Club was another new campus group, this one sponsored by Mr. Harvey Zorn, band director. Under his experienced guidance members had many rewarding and enjoyable moments. Although small at first, soon the club was firmly entrenched. It could be said these students had a "higher" education than the rest of us did. At any rate, members could get an over-all picture of the campus.

MISS RUTH CREIGHTON'S Bowling Belles came through the year with flying colors, many of them placing in national contests. Strikes were of first importance to this group. Members were divided into 10 teams who met every Wednesday at the Pla-Mor. Officers were Nancy Fry, president; Annetta Holcombe, secretary; and Sally Gaston, treasurer.

With Stars In Their Eyes . . . They Really Click

FOR THE FIRST time since originally founded, membership in Las Estrellitas Club was opened to all students. This very active girls' club sponsored two formal Balls at Encanto Clubhouse this year. Freddy Bustillio's Orchestra played for both events.

ALL OF THEIR sales—among them several candied apple sales—netted a large profit for the hard-working girls. A part of the YWCA, their off campus sponsor was Miss Dolittle, while Miss Rita Cannell helped them with campus activities. President was Grace Gaxiola.

THIS SCHOOL YEAR will stand out as the term when many new clubs were formed on campus, even if nothing else makes it remarkable. Phoenix Union students really wanted something to suit every taste, so the Shutterbugs was the result. Sponsored by Miss Mildred Spires, the group worked with cameras of all shapes, sizes, and varieties.

MRS. BLANCHE ADAMS' talk to the group on how to take pictures of desert flowers was only one of the methods members used for learning.

Better Health Promoters . . .

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE Club has accomplished much for themselves and the community. They participated especially in health activities. When the hospitals held open house and gave tests to nurses, PUHS girls were first at the door.

AS CHRISTMAS rolled around and the members decided they needed a charity project, they went to St. Joseph's Hospital and decorated the children's ward. Then too, they worked on nationwide nurse recruitment drives. They had a very active year.

"NO PARKING For Chewing Gum" became the battle cry of the Student Health Committee. Emphasis was on keeping gum out of the drinking fountains. Although the posters kept the gum out of the fountains, it sure didn't keep it off the posters the committee so carefully put up.

THE GROUP ALSO sponsored a dental education projection climaxed by an essay contest, which was won by Sally Esler. The committee supervised free X-rays to every student as well.

PLANNING a health project are Mrs. Cameron, McFarland, Mr. Mason, Hite, Mrs. Askins, Mrs. Banker, Salerno, and Segovia.

... In A Friendly Atmosphere

"BIGGER AND BETTER smiles" was the cry of the Friendship Club this year. A part of the Girls' League, it strives to make every student feel at home. Special efforts are given to helping freshmen. Even the lack of a social hall this year didn't hamper the members from giving a variety of parties. Led by Rosalie Adamson and advised by Miss Ruth Cole the girls strove to seek out newcomers and urge them to participate in all school activities.

MM—GOOD! MM—NICE! Yes, these were the sounds coming from many teachers at the annual faculty Christmas tea sponsored by the SOS. Normally the active club would be taking care of the Social Hall plus sponsoring many teas and parties, but due to remodeling they had to be content with working on new furnishings for the hall. Led by Darlene Evans, the club was sponsored by Mrs. Betty McCubbins and Miss Ruth Bradish.

Airwave Artists:

RADIO HAMs, under guidance of Mr. Barney Shehane, proudly joined in a worldwide movement to clear the air waves of propaganda used by the Communists. Members avidly did this by working in conjunction with the Crusade for Freedom. One of the year's activities was a field trip in which members tried to contact people all over the United States and other countries. W7OXQ is the club's call. Perhaps this radio station will someday play an important part in Phoenix's defense. Officers were Bob Gates, president; Bob Olsen, vice-president; Bud Imler, secretary-treasurer; and Roger Miller, sergeant-at-arms.

Artistic Typists:

THE ARTISTIC TYPING Club under the sponsorship of Mr. Mason has proved to be one of the most different and interesting clubs in school. Members who come to meetings to work really turn out some artistic creations. Designs range from the simplest patterns to the most intricate and difficult. Some of them were entered in contests, others were simply kept for personal benefit. Sara Atwell was president of this active group open to any student of typing.

FIGHT ON! Coyote fans assemble for the Big Game Thanksgiving Day.

Football! It's A Great Game

STARTING with inexperienced but game Coyotes, Head Coach Wendell Patterson and Assistant Bill Saunders had their work cut out for them. Only five lettermen returned. Injuries and colds plagued the Pack all season with key players missing from about every game. The outstanding play of Sophomore Joe Duffy, Guard Karl Brown, and Center Jim Borden brought back memories of former Phoenix Union greats. Borden won first string center position on the All-State team and Brown was named to the second team.

OTHERS SPARKING the team were Lyle Heding, John Fulton, Captain George Sorenson, and John Etz. Outstanding underclassmen included Louis Escoto, Bob Hall, Victor Sanchez, Tom Hulen, Barney Randall, Ted Mitchell, and Ted Matz.

IN THEIR OPENER the Coyotes met the strongest Yuma team in history and almost started the season with an upset. The Pack grabbed two touchdowns in the first half and held a 12-0 margin on scores by Sorenson on a 14-yard aerial from Fulton and a two-yard dash by Fullback Vic Sanchez. But the Criminals roared back in the second half to steal the game 12-13. The Coyotes dumped favored Bakersfield, Calif., at Bakersfield, 7-6.

down St. Mary's Orabuena.

NEXT THE COYOTES treked to Alhambra, Calif., only to be scalped by the Mark Keppel Aztecs 28-7. Center Jim Borden was outstanding as a big, powerful team simply ran over the lighter Phoenix Union squad. Despite the fine play of Phoenix Tech's speedster Frank Soto and star passer Jimmy Lindsey the Coyotes swatted the Hornets 40-26. In the second home tilt Phoenix fell to the championship-bound Tucson Badgers.

TUCSON'S Joel Favara and Mike Morales, led their team to a 41-7 victory. The Coyotes also lost quarterback John Fulton who left the game with a broken hand.

BY STOPPING the Phoenix Union double wing in its tracks, the West High Thunderbirds were able to stomp the Coyotes 19-7 in a city league battle at Montgomery Stadium Nov. 14.

WHERE NOW? Heding faces trap by Mustangs, as Brown (44) rushes to help. No. 25 is North's Meyer.

North's Mustangs Taste Revenge

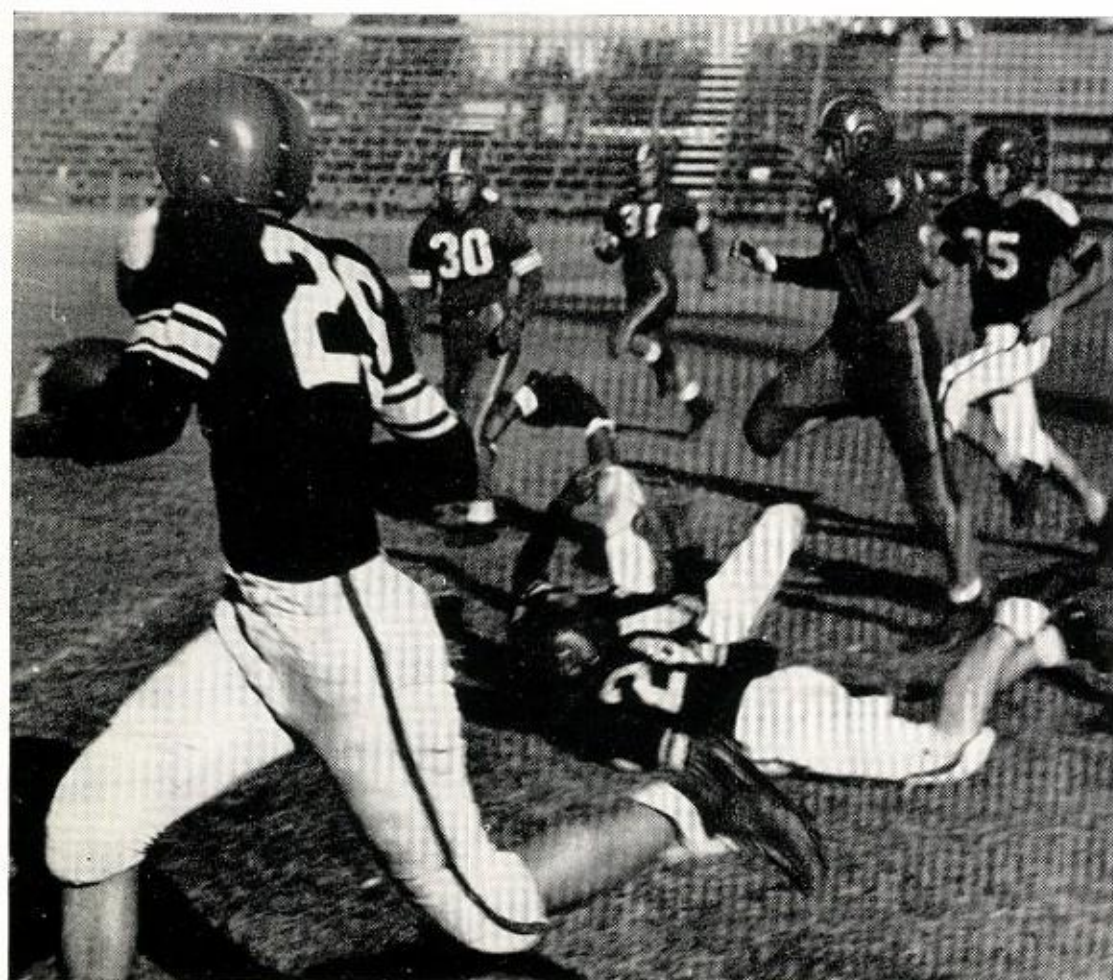

NEEDING A WIN for the city title and seeking revenge for a 33-0 drubbing in '51, North High Mustangs were out to slaughter Don Coyote. The Hosses, capitalizing on breaks, scored in the first and third periods to roll up a 13-0 win. Lavern Prock scored on a 17-yard end sweep after one of Duffy's passes had been intercepted. The other Mustang score came on a 13-yard pass from Clyde Neilson to Johnny Meyer.

THE PHOENIX UNION reply to North Phoenix as the Mustangs celebrated their victory was "Remember last year and wait 'til next!"

DIRECTED BY COACHES Martin "Pug" Marich and Bob Ruman, Phoenix's Pups had their most successful season since 1949. Although 12 of the JV's gridders were lost to the varsity, the team won 7 of its 9 games for the best record in the city, 6-1, and were the outstanding team in the state.

LINEMEN FOR the Pups were Ray Hall, Jim Ryan, Bob Shankland, Ronnie Montgomery, Kenneth Gilbert, Dean Enfield, Bob Haddad, Cecil Warriner, and Bill Shaw.

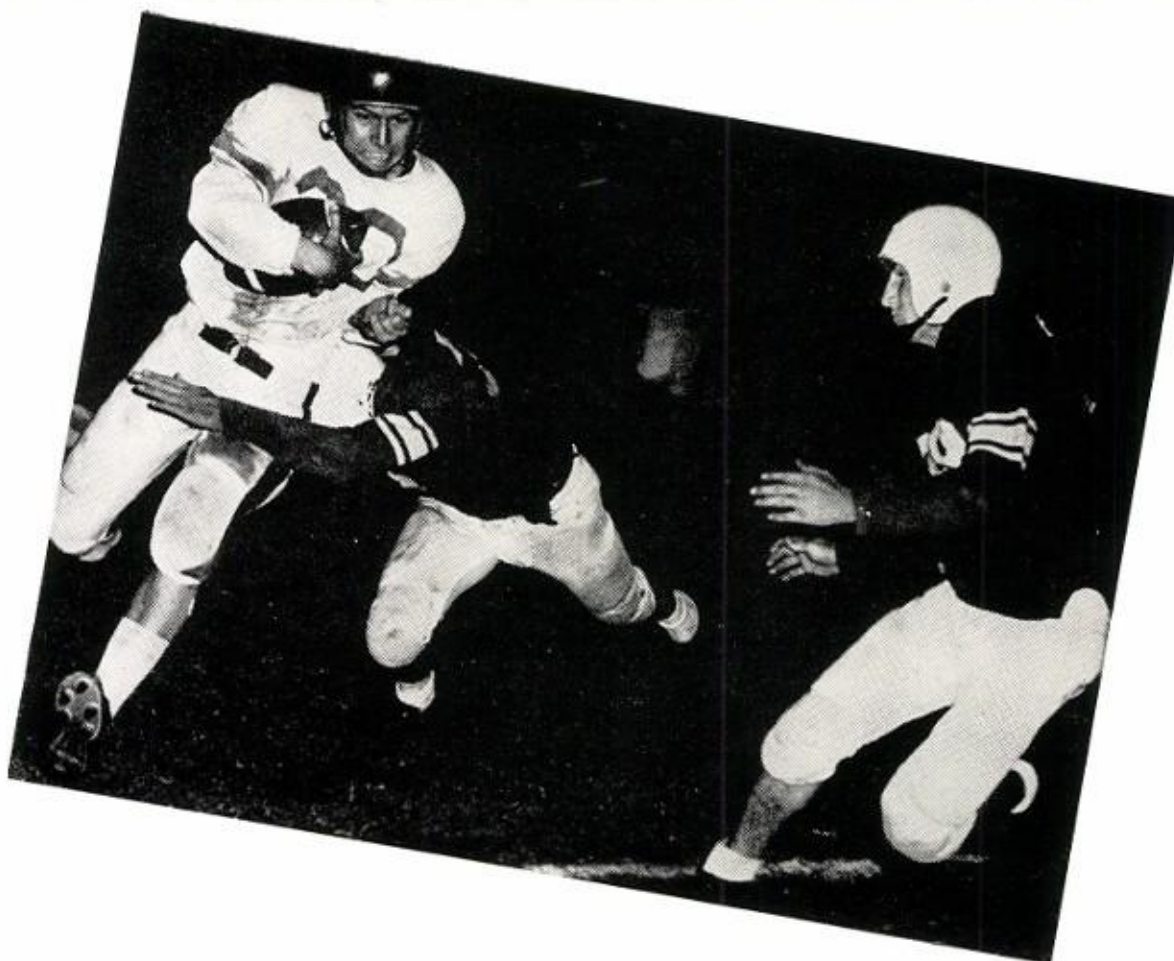

ALSO SUCH BACKS as Lou Rainbolt, Joe Nevarez, Richard Barraza, Tony Arrollo, Bill Spencer and Kenneth Beutler sparkled. All of these will probably be seen making good when varsity workouts begin.

ON HIS WAY for a long gain against Phoenix Tech's JV's is Roy Harrington with the ball. On the ground is John Kondora and running up to block is Cecil Warner (35).

DRIVING TOWARD PAY DIRT is Coyote Quarterback John Fulton. Tucson's Joel Favara waits to help his fellow Badger bring down hard running Fulton.

Greenies? Ask Their Grid Foes!

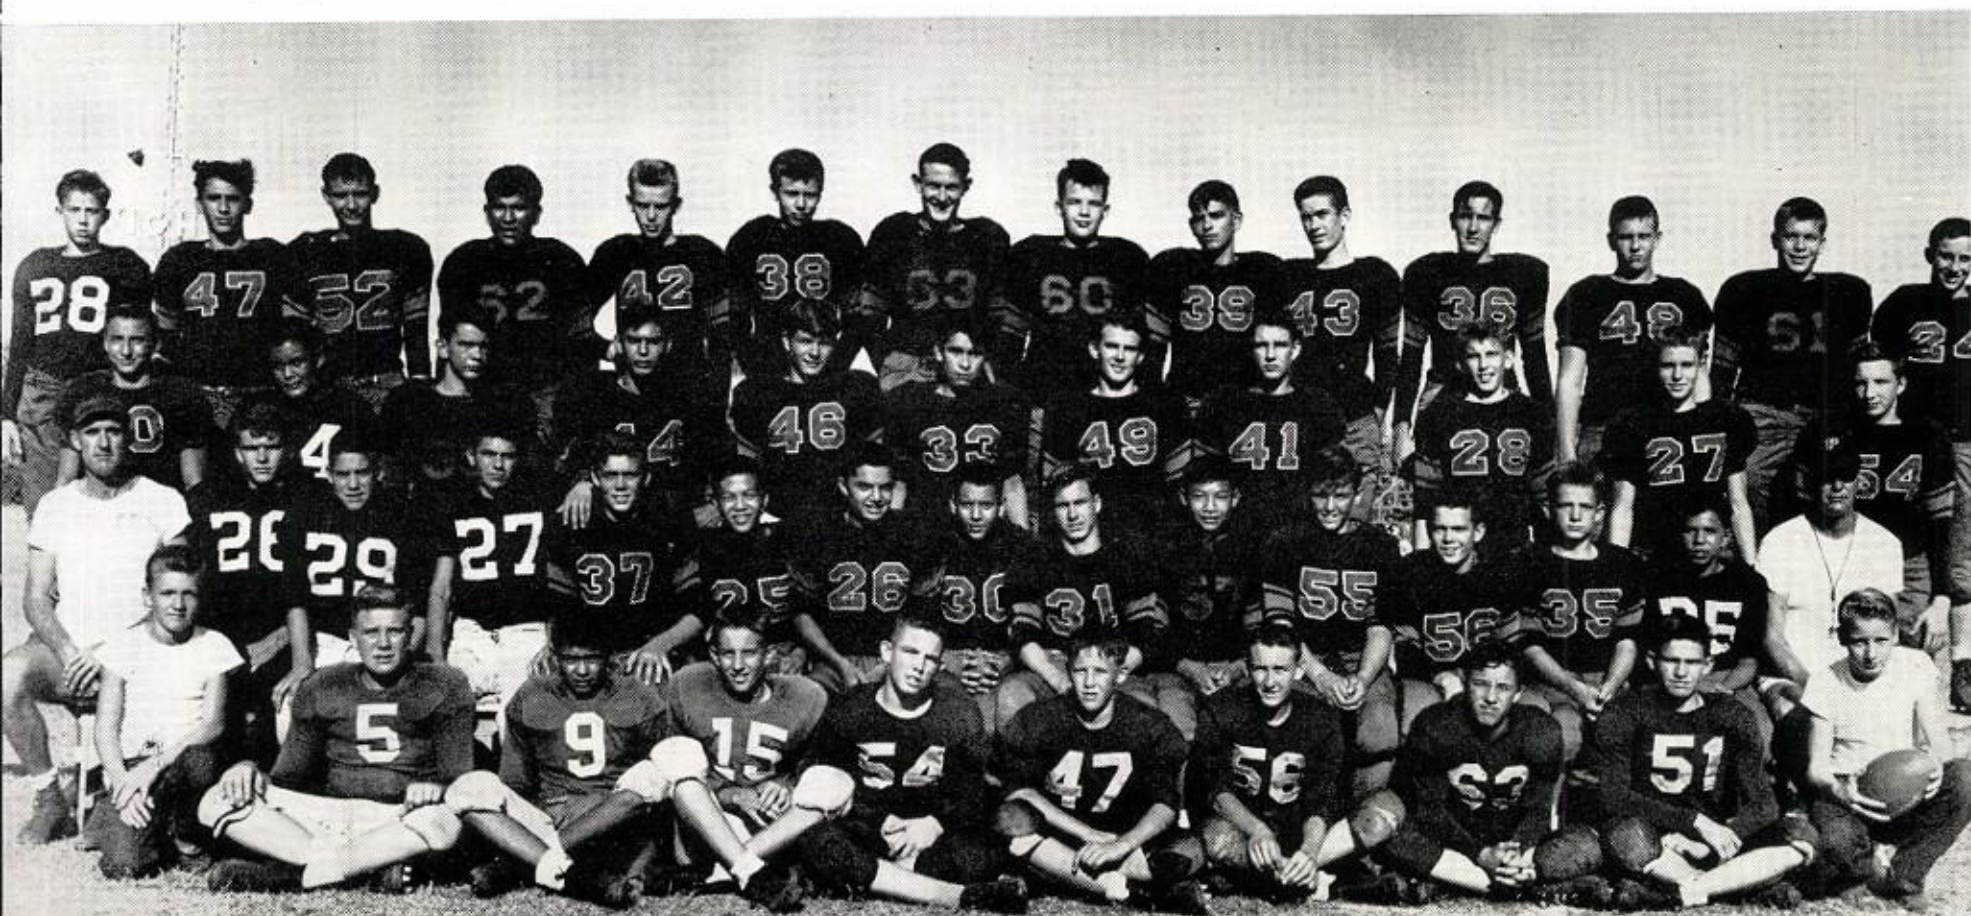

CHAMPIONS! Our Freshman team had a tough 9-game schedule during 1952 . . . and won 'em all. They met five different teams during the year, defeating St. Mary's twice, 15-0 and 7-0; Tech, 27-0 and 54-0; North High, 19-0 and 37-6; Mesa, 21-6 and 26-0; and West High, 26-13. Our Freshman teams have played 27 games, lost only three and tied two in the last three years, but this is the first undefeated, untied season since 1941. Within the next three seasons of football we should see some good offensive and defensive playing from this year's crop of grid go-getters.

IN THE QUARTERBACK position we'll find Danny Rhinehart, Jim Lattimore and Don Hibbert. Fullbacks Gene Gile and Allan Sandall. John Lee and Louie Lopez should do well at halfback while Jerry Garrison and Ernie Jones will develop into good centers.

IN THE GUARD slot you may expect Norman Jackson, Desi Sanchez, Richard Lopez and Gale Greer with Sumner Smith, Bill Bard and Bill Petruschke as tackles. Royall Spurlock, Bill Bolin, Kenny Ramsey, ends. Jon Conor was our extra point star.

A Fast And Furious Game . . .

UP, OVER, AND IN goes the beautiful hook shot of Coach Ed Long as the coaches show the varsity cagers how the game is supposed to be played in their assembly game. Looking on are Calderone, Carson, Flores, Ong, Bcwen, Ruman, and Butler.

They Really Hustled . . .

AGGRESSIVE PLAY earned Phoenix Union's cagers the title of the "hustling" Coyotes from the sports experts. Opening the season with a squad of mostly inexperienced boys Coach Bob Ruman built a team respected by the state's top quints. The Pack, despite their poor record, drew big crowds of supporters as they threatened to upset and several times did upset Class A powerhouses.

TED GLASS PACED the Coyotes' early season attack and finished the year with an average of 10.3 points per game. Later in the season Guard Joey Nunez found the range and began to spearhead the Pack's offense. Nunez scored 191 for Phoenix Union and a game average of 10.6. He was named to All-City and Class A Tournament second teams.

THE COYOTES PULLED the upset of the year when they knocked off league-leading West Phoenix late in the season to cinch themselves a place in the Class A tourney. Floyd Wolff was also a great help to the Coyote basketballers. Richard "Whitey" Berlemann steadied Union's floor play and kept the Coyotes in the game with his long set shots.

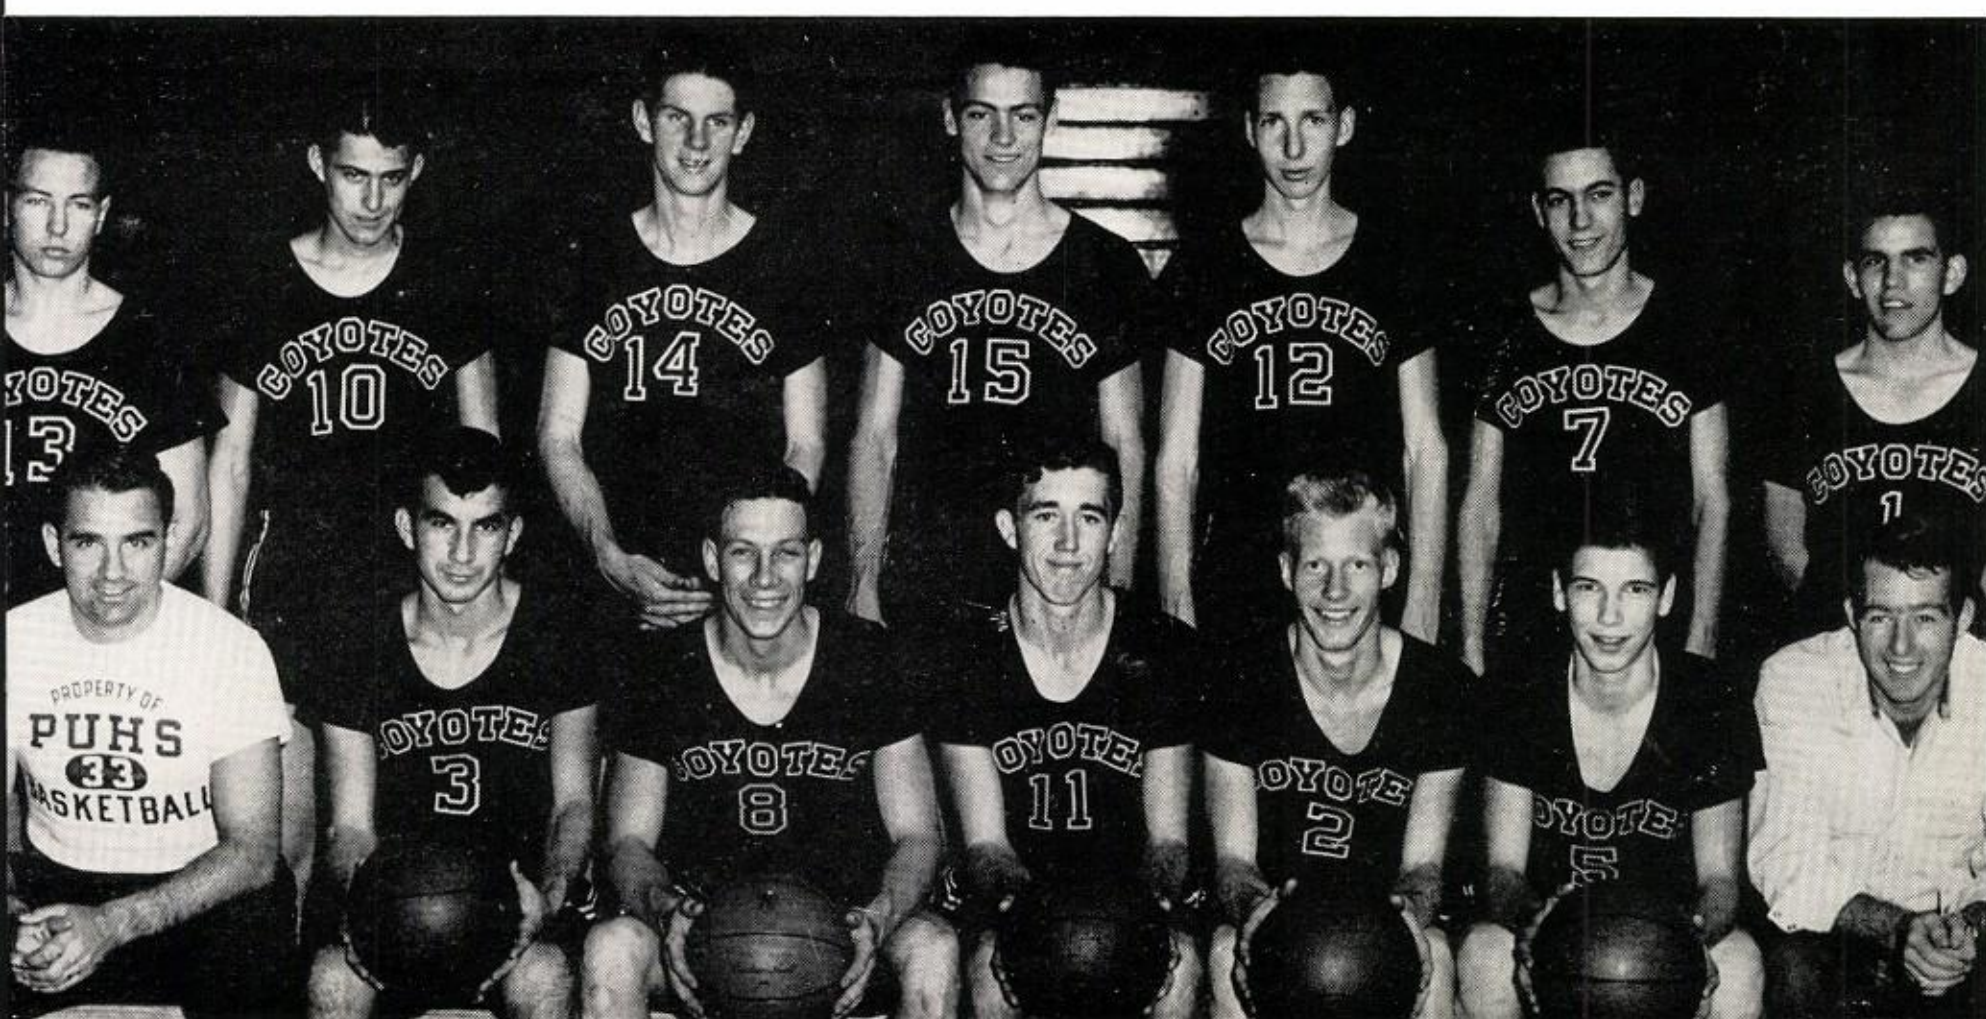

GLASS sends a sure shot skyward while Berlemann watches.

THE CENTER position was held down cabably for most of the season by Jim Carver, with Chuck Lindemulder as an agile understudy. Tuberville made a good showing especially in the tournament, adding zip to the Coyote Pack drive.

HE FLIES THRU THE AIR but not on a trapeze! Carver tries to block the shot of Mesa's Gove Allen. Coyotes Glass, Berlemann, and Nunez watch and wait to see if Carver's effort thwarts Allen's shot.

Slow Start . . . Fast Finish!

MISFORTUNE BEFELL the Pack in the tournament as they had to face Phoenix Tech, the eventual champion, in their first game. But the Coyote hoopsters rebounded in the consolation bracket to defeat Yuma and put themselves in the consolation finals against North High's Mustangs. The Mustangs proved too much for the Pack for the third time this season and Don Coyote fell 57-50.

OUTLOOK FOR NEXT year is very bright with such players as Berlemann, Carver, Nunez, Lindemulder, Floyd Wolff, and Bobby Manning returning. And if Don Coyote's basketballers have the fight next year that they showed this season, watch out for Phoenix Union!

Speedy Pups Also Learn Fast

UNDER THE SUPERVISION of Coach Ed Long, Phoenix Union's Pups won 10 and lost 8 basketball tilts. This year's crew was made up of sophomores and freshmen. The Union Pups started the season by 38-35 victory over Tech. The scores were generally close, whether the Phoenix cagers won or lost.

MESA'S BUNNIES had a jinx over Long's Pups. They were triumphant in three attempts, 34-32, 36-34, and 53-36. But the season provided plenty of experience for the young cagers and should help some of them in making good on the varsity.

Play Baseball!

BREAKS MAKE THE GAME and we got plenty of breaks — most of them bad! The Coyotes got off to a very slow start, winning only two of their first seven games. Hitting was good and defensive work poor. But team spirit was to help.

MID-SEASON saw Coach Martin "Pug" Marich's boys start to hit top form as they brought their percentage up to an even .500. Leading the Pack was left-handed twirler Bob Glover, who accounted for most of Don Coyote's wins and seldom allowed an earned run to cross the plate. Backing up Glover and assisting with the mound chores was Ralph Caldwell, another lefty. Next year, it'll be another story, with many lettermen and talented lads from the JV returning. Just watch Ol' Don!

HOLD UP! Joe Duffy (left) tries to stop his swing as he takes a pitch from Mesa's ace hurler, Bonner. Note the ball in the catcher's glove. Right: Safe! seems to be the comment of Heding as Pearson tests his sliding ability in front of the watchful eyes of Coach Marich. Ulloa makes the tag as Phillips and Orcutt look on. Well, practice makes perfect.

Don Coyote Comes Up Swinging

HITTING STAR Tom Phillips led the Pack at bat as he knocked the "old apple" with outstanding regularity. On the defense, outfielders Joe Duffy and Ralph Ochoa sparked the club. Benny Felix completed the outfield and alternated at second base. As the season progressed, so did these hustling young Coyotes. They gained confidence.

INFIELD positions were held down by Phillips at first base, Bob Manning at second, Herb Orcutt at third, and Lyle Heding at short stop.

CHARLES PEARSON capably took care of the catching duties most of the time being relieved occasionally by Jesse Ulloa.

FERRIS FAIN or Jimmy Mize? It only looks like one of them! Tom Phillips really stretches out to take the peg as Bob Manning observes the play from second base.

Cindermen

MAKING SURE that Coach Steve Carson does a good job taping up Victor Edge's ankle are Bob Walker, Bill Lairson, and Jim Kelland.

Our Track Stars Had Depth . . .

STARTING THE YEAR with only three returning lettermen, Coach Steve Carson built a team that rated as one of the best in the state. Depth was the word for the Pack as they made impressive showings in their dual meets but lost out in the contests where many teams were entered because of lack of a top star.

LED BY BOB Shankland's upset victory over favored Stan Staige of North High in the half mile and record setting efforts by Jim Kelland in the 220, Bill Lairson in the discus and Sherman Gile in the shot the Pack copped runner-up trophy in the City Championships.

CONSISTENT HIGH scorers for the Coyotes were Jim Kelland and Victor Edge while Bill Lairson was almost a sure five points every meet.

JOHN FULTON and Tom Corbin combined with Edge and Kelland for a relay team that really burned up the state's tracks and proved valuable.

Stout Lads . . . These Thinclads!

DEPTH WAS ESPECIALLY evident in the distances as Team Captain Bob Walker, Manual Soto, and Reynaldo Mendosa swept most of their dual meet races in the mile. Jake Doss, Jack Jordan, and Shankland were constantly fighting it out for first in the half mile. Bill Knox, low hurdler, and Jim Fulton, broad jumper, gathered points for the Coyotes in two of Don Coyote's weaker events.

OTHER OUTSTANDING underclassmen who are bright prospects as stars for next year are Urban Porterie, Jim Brizzee, Bob Paty, Gilbert Naunez, Tom Council, Louie Escoto, John Tabor, Sherman Gile and Gene Gile. Hard work pays off in track as in no other sport and this year's track squad proved it.

MANY HARD-WORKING underclassmen give promise for a great team next year, including Shankland, Mendosa, Soto, and Lairson.

MEMBERS of Phoenix Union's tennis squad included Richardson (kneeling), Burrier, Silver, Patterson, Coach Jordan, Upshaw, Lyles, and Wright.

In The Swing:

THE COYOTE VARSITY tennis squad suffered this season by losing two key players: Ronald Wyckoff and Danny Richardson. They were replaced by two strong freshmen from the JV's, Alan McGee and Frank Lyles. The two that bid for first and second place on the team were Ronald Wright and Billy Patterson with Jim Upshaw running a close third. THE JUNIOR VARSITY team had an outstanding season, being defeated only once by the strong Mesa Bunnies. Chief advantage of tennis over many other sports is that skill and practice are more closely related. Mr. Ben Jordan is coach.

Right: Lowering the boom on Frank Powell are Bob Hall and Tom Hulen as they warm up for the Letterman's Club commando basketball game.

Well Lettered

REALLY TOPS in sports in every field are those Phoenicians who have won membership in the Lettermen's Club and the sister organization, Girls' Letter Club.

SWEATERS WORN proudly, adorned with blazing red "P's", signify an achievement envied by many and equalled by few. These are the upper crust in the school's athletic circle. They're privileged to attend events open only to Letter Club members, they sponsor school-wide money-raising events. Energetic Coyotes who represent the school outside in sporting events, they build a better school spirit, and judging from their appearance, strong and erect bodies as well!

LETTERMEN: Proud of membership in the Lettermen's Club are (top row): Fuller, Escota, Calderone, Cecenia, Bordo, Kelland, Kramer, Fulton, Walker, Edge, Porterie, Tabor, Howell. Third Row: Etz, Heding, Diamond, Perkins, Callahan, Mitchell, Jones,

Girls' Athletics

GOOD WILL season! GAA Clubbers Romley, Blaine, and Amador prepare basket for a needy family.

Every Day's A Hey-Hey Day . . .

IT'S HEY-HEY and rustle bustle in the Girls' Gym every day for the energetic and effervescent Coyotes who hit the hall for a bundle of fun.

NOT CONTENT with learning the old stand-bys of volleyball, tennis, etc., the gals branched out via Letter Club and GAA to throw whing-bang parties, help the under-privileged, and have a good time.

THE UNTIRING girls observe clean sportsmanship, putting their all into socking one ball for a homer and giving the other girl a fair try at a coveted position on the team. They emerge graceful and beautiful for the Masque of the Yellow Moon. Healthy and active, the girls bring much credit to themselves and Phoenix Union. Sunshine, fresh air and athletic action bring sparkle to our girls.

Let's Play:

THE WHISTLE BLOWS, the game starts . . . and nobody is left on the sidelines with that "left out" feeling. Nobody takes a back seat at the girl Coyotes' lair! Girls may join any of a number of clubs plus regular classtime playing and sports.

EVERYBODY gets into the game . . . Everybody has a big time . . . It's go, go, go, and try to win! Everything's a team victory, and these girls really know how to make it a clean one. GAA has really done heaps to make the distaff side of our student body responsible and independent. They literally know how to play ball!

GIRLS FILL the athletic field with fun and noise. Sunshine and lots of space make playtime a pleasure.

Enthusiasm Is Routine

WHAT A "RACQUET" the Badminton Club and Tennis Club members can make! Enthusiastic net players all, the gals journeyed near and far in Arizona for tournaments with other high schools. Tennis Club, a reactivated organization, is fast climbing the valley tennis ladder toward the top. Two badminton championship trophies came back with the Phoenix Union contingent after the State badminton tournament.

MORE THAN 100 girls take active part in the Badminton program. Just about any day one can peek inside the Girls' Gym and see four or five badminton games in progress . . . with birdies and shrill yips filling the air. Healthy activities and high enthusiasm are routine for these young ladies.

THESE ARE THE gals that really have to caper to keep up with the birdie. Here are Coyotes that are really on the ball!

attendance finally pays off with diplomas! Five hundred of us graduates grin broadly, even emit a few cheers, as we contemplate departure from Old PU.

BUT OUR CHEERS are tempered with sudden sad thoughts. Why, we'll not be coming back . . . our good ol' Phoenix Union . . . the Coyotes . . . our teachers, most of them pretty good guys . . . Well, as must all graduates, so must we say it: Goodbye! Good Luck! Don't forget us!

SWEETLY PLAYED the music and our dreams came true . . . Here we are at the Junior-Senior Prom enjoying one of the year's best dances. Right: Stana Kulinovich and Tayeko Nagawaka hoist make-believe umbrellas near the Prom's centerpiece.

Their Payment . . . National Honor

AFTER FOUR YEARS of struggling to get good grades and earn many merit credits, 75 seniors were rewarded with membership in National Honor Society. The top 15 per cent made the group. Officers were Doug McGrath, president; Shirley Phillips, vice-president; Sharon Davies, secretary; and Robert Walker, treasurer. Top group, Row 1: Neutz, Shaffer, Williams, Lyons, Tarr, and Corkins. Row 2: Pearson, Koch, Seolas, Davies, Boyer, Lewis, and Sanchez. Row 3: Robins, Phillips, Bradley, Duran, Addair, Hanson, and Atwell. Row 4: McCoy, Johnson, Blankenship, Abrams, Evans, Williams, Clements, and Bellinger. Row 5: Fulton, Duck, Serafini, Klebe, Gale, Nelson, Smith, Celaya, and McGrath.

BOTTOM GROUP, Row 1: Wickersham, Schultz, Morris, Siquieros, Salerno, Ritzman, and Wagner. Row 2: Phillips, Hollingsworth, Fennel, Atkerson,, McCall, Brown, Bement, and Wilkins. Row 3: Refsnes, Merrill, Gold, Cotton, Bryant, Spurling, and Lee. Row 4: Tutley, Walker, Doss, Prescott, Morrison, Parks Martin, Rose, Sorenson, and Etz.

MASQUE Princess, Ginger Johnson.

Our Magnificent Moon Masque

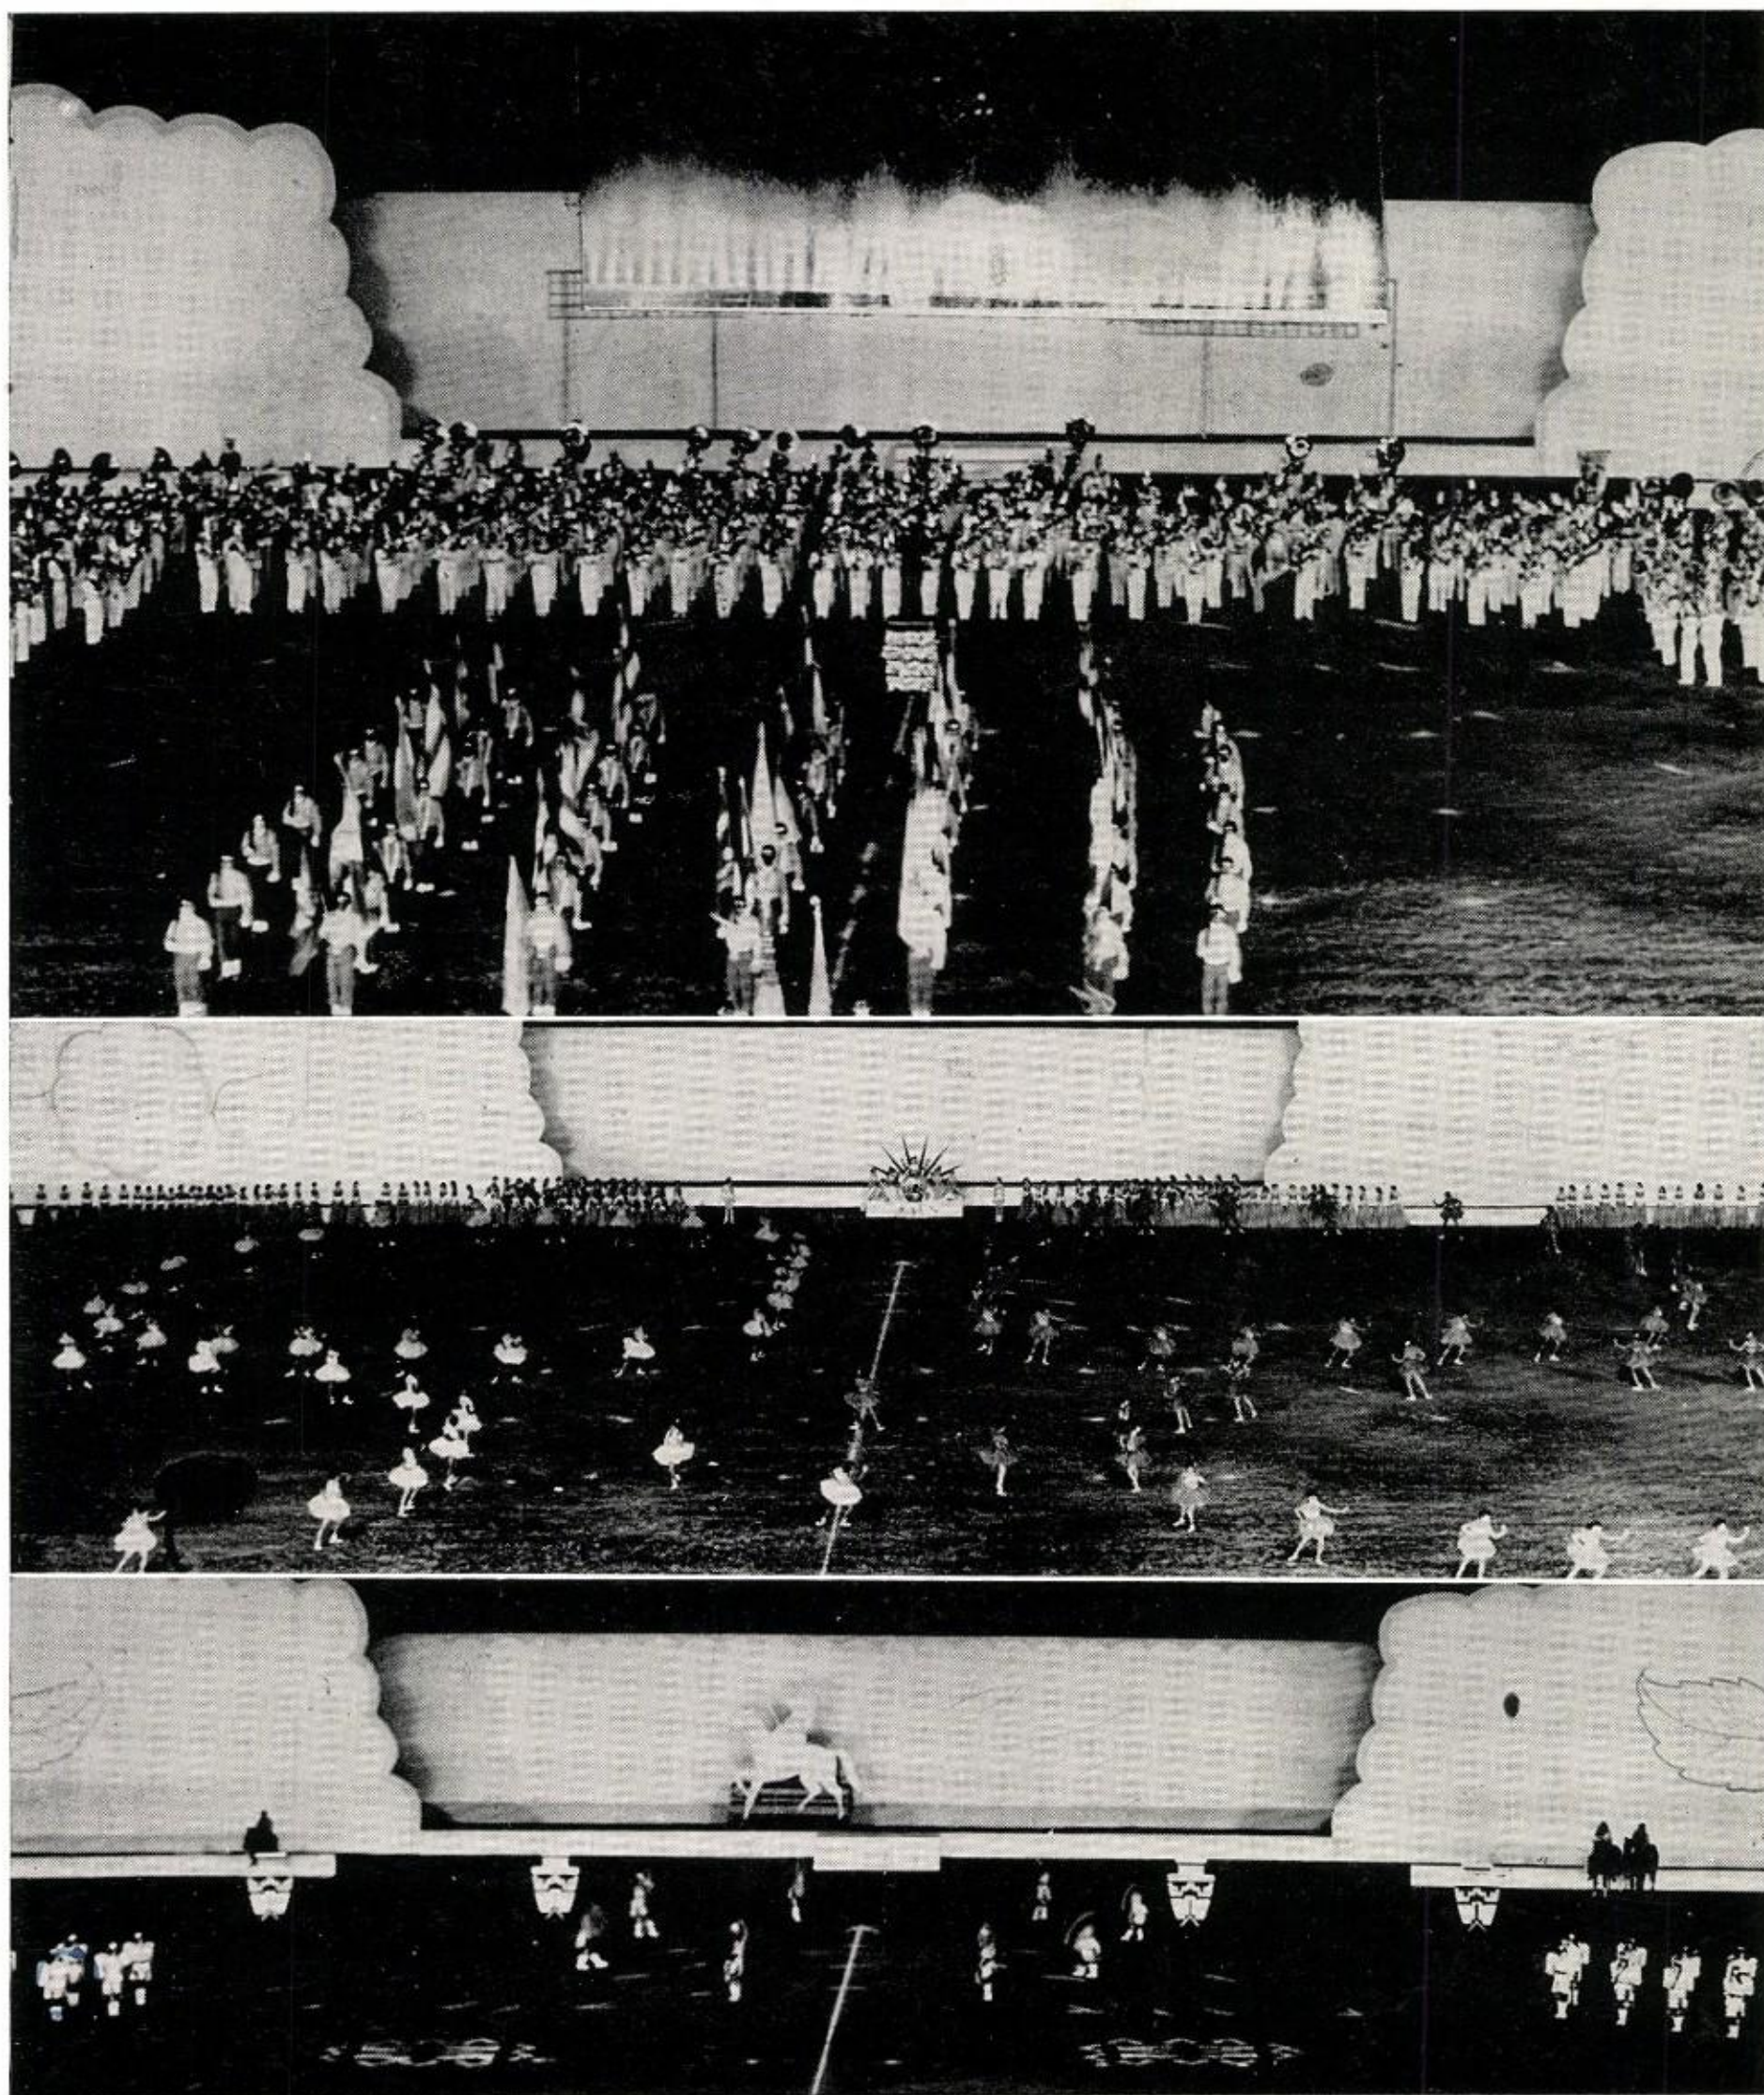

"HARKEN WHILE our history sings . . . our songs of the heart!" Following that theme, the 22nd annual Masque of the Yellow Moon arose to awe thousands of Phoenixians and Valley visitors. Directed by Mrs. Cordelia M. Perkins, the magnificent pageant lived up to its reputation for grandeur and color.

PHOENIX UNION presented two numbers, the Legend and an Indian sun dance, complete with rhythmic precision and color. Our band and military unit joined the other school groups for the grand finale of music and fireworks.

ONE CHANGE was evident: a huge artificial moon came up during West High's dance number to add glamour to the scene and compete with the real moon. Oren Arnold, Phoenix author, wrote the script. As usual, the audience reported "Wonderful! Unbelievable! Best yet!"

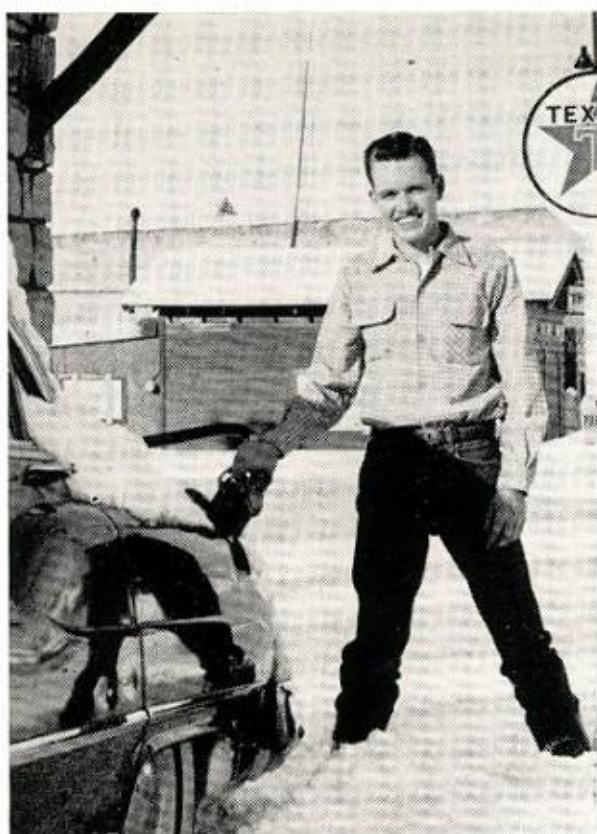

STAR PATTERN: Phoenix Union girls perform in the "Valley of the Sun." The dance represented the people, the warmth, and the gaiety of the Valley.

On Stage . . . Everybody!

JOINT EFFORTS of all the city schools paid off in beauty and glamour while thousands approved. Above: combined bands and military units wind up the show with a display of marching, flags, and fireworks. Center: Carver High dancers interpret "Rhapsody in Blue." Queen and her attendants are in background. Bottom: Phoenix Union's Indian dancers open the Masque.
